

5-21-1968

The Ledger and Times, May 21, 1968

The Ledger and Times

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.murraystate.edu/tlt>

---

Recommended Citation

The Ledger and Times, "The Ledger and Times, May 21, 1968" (1968). The Ledger & Times. 5976.
<https://digitalcommons.murraystate.edu/tlt/5976>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Murray State's Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Ledger & Times by an authorized administrator of Murray State's Digital Commons. For more information, please contact msu.digitalcommons@murraystate.edu.

The Primary
Source of News
In Murray and Calloway County

Selected As A Best All Round Kentucky Community Newspaper

THE LEDGER & TIMES

Largest Paid Circulation
Both In City
And In County

United Press International

In Our 89th Year

Murray, Ky., Tuesday Afternoon, May 21, 1968

10¢ Per Copy

Vol. LXXXIX No. 121

Seen & Heard Around Murray

Halloo, Halloo, Oh Frabjous Day, the income tax refund came in today.

It doesn't rhyme too well, but who cares.

A Jay Bird has a nest high in the Post Oak, about ten feet out on a big limb. Another has built in the Black Gum next to the driveway. Both are in plain sight.

The Jay Bird is a rascal but the single bell like, melodious melodious note he commands is worth his existence.

Lily bulbs are putting out. The Regal Lily is about ten inches high so far.

A nice visit with Vernon Hale yesterday. Vernon has lived on Olive Street for a good many years and his house sits back from the street a good distance and he still has lots of room back behind his house.

He has some huge Post Oaks and Red Oaks back there and a profusion of verdant growth of one kind or another.

Vernon grows all kinds of things and has a penchant for "starting" plants by rooting them and has a veritable nur-

(Continued on Back Page)

Three Vehicle Wreck Here

A three vehicle collision was investigated by the Murray Police Department Monday at 11:15 a.m., according to the report filed by Sgt. Martin Wells and Patrolman Alvin Farris. No injuries were reported.

Vehicles involved were a 1964 Chevrolet four door driven by Jerry D. King of 209 Pine Street, a 1964 Chrysler four door owned by Havana Rutledge and driven by Dwight
G. Rutledge of 105 Pine Street, and a 1964 International 4 ton truck driven by Robert M. Miller of Murray.

Police said the King car was making a left turn off North 3rd Street onto Main Street and the Rutledge car was stopped for the red light at Main and 3rd Streets headed west.

Miller, traveling west on Main, hit the Rutledge car in the left rear end and went around the Rutledge car on the left side and hit the King car in the left front fender, according to the police report.
Miller told the Ledger and Times this morning that his brake line broke.

Damage to the King car was on the left front fender, to the Rutledge car on the left rear quarter panel and bumper, and to the Miller truck on the right front fender and bumper.

Hard Fought Race Is Seen For Court, Appeals Seat

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a four-part series on the May 28 primary election.
Today, the Court of Appeals race.

By DREW VON BERGEN FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — While Senate and congressional races have attracted the major share of attention across the state, voters in the 18-county Fifth Judicial District of central Kentucky are witnessing a hard-fought four-man race for the Court of Appeals' seat currently held by Chief Justice Squire N. Williams of Frankfort.

Williams, 50, is seeking re-election to his second full eight-year term on the state's highest court. He has been on the appellate court's bench since 1959, when he won a one-year term to fill a vacancy.

The appellate race was given added impetus by the 1968 General Assembly, when it increased the annual salary of a Court of Appeals judge from $20,000 to $25,000, effective July 1.

Williams is trying to avoid the fate of the last court member to have a contested election.
In that race in 1966, Judge Brady Stewart of Paducah was unseated by current Judge Earl Osborne in the First Judicial District.

All four candidates for Williams' seat, including the incumbent, have cross-filed on

(Continued on back Page)

Jimmy Collie is hurt in accident

Jimmy Collie was admitted to the Murray-Calloway County Hospital last night after being injured in an auto-while accident.

Officials at the hospital said he received an injury to the left wrist and chest, and is listed in satisfactory condition this morning.

The accident was investigated by Kentucky State Police Trooper Anderson of Cadiz who could not be located this morning by telephone when the Ledger & Times tried to contact him.

Pictured above are Mrs. Bill Clark Thomas, missionary to Malaysia, and Miss Gayle Rogers, following the Girls Auxiliary Coronation at the First Baptist Church. Miss Rogers received the highest honor, Queen Regent in Service. Mrs.
Thomas was special guest.

Gayle Rogers Receives The Highest Award In GA Work

Miss Gayle Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers, received the highest step attainable in the work of the Girls Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church at the coronation service held at the church on Friday evening.

The Murray University senior student received the Queen Regent in Service honor with Mrs. Bill Clark Thomas, missionary to Malaysia.

(Continued on Back Page)

Granddaughter Of Local Couple Wins $1700 Scholarship

Miss Stephanie Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Car-loss Stevenson of Hopkinsville has won a $1700 scholarship to attend Pease State University at Clarksville. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Dorch of Murray.

The Christian County High School senior has also been named one of the two featured solo twirlers with the APSU marching band. She won this honor in competition held at the university campus.

Her list of honors, not all in the field of twirling, is impressive.

She recently won the Miss Cinderella Pageant at County High and was awarded a $200 scholarship to the college or university of her choice.

Miss Stevenson was named national fancy strutter champion when she was 16, was immortal queen of Kentucky in 1967, was won first place in Kentucky solo twirling, fancy strutting, military strutting, and first place at the APSU summer twirling camp in fancy strutting and two batons and was also named the best all-around twirler that year.

In 1965, she was named the USTA state champion twirler and in 1966 the two-baton state champion.

In the 1966 Dixieland open competition she was first in strutting and first with two batons.
She was the junior Miss Majorette of Kentucky in 1965, which entitled her to compete in the national contest in Miami, Fla., and in 1966 she won the Pennyroyal Fair talent contest.

Most first-place honors and the best-all-around twirler award went to her again in 1966 at the APSU summer twirling
camp.

At Christian County High,
she is a member of Modern Music, Masters, the National Honor Society, Beta Club, fashion board, Charm Club and Mu Theta Alpha (math club).

Miss Stevenson served as featured twirler for the CCHS marching band in 1967-68.
She plays the bass clarinet in the concert band, and was voted the most talented senior girl at CCHS.

Joe D. Geurin, Jr. Tech School Grad

BILOXI, Miss. — Airman
First Class Joe D. Geurin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Geurin of Route 5, Murray, Ky., has been graduated from a U.S. Air Force technical school at Keesler AFB, Miss.

He was trained as a radio repairman and has been assigned to a unit of the Tactical Air Command at MacDill AFB, Fla.

The airman, a graduate of Calloway County High School, attended Murray College.

Pony League Players Are Named Today

Ronald Crouch, President of the Pony League, announced today that the following boys have been selected for the following teams.

Dodgers: Managers — Jimmy Fells and Bob Parrish; players, Tommy Vance, Stanley
King, John McNeely, Jimmy Emerson, Tim Thurmond, Joe Resig, Kenny Horn, Roger Parish, Jeff Dowdy, Jimmy Dodson, and Dennis Burken.

Indians: Managers — Ken Adams and Monk Stallions; players, Johnny Rayburn, Rodney Stallions, Bruce Milam, Allen Adams, Ed Adams, David Parker, David Livera, Dennis Lane, Jere Jackson, Willie Mayberry, Terry Doss, and Lynn Solomon.

Orioles: Managers — Carl Roberts and Bill Pinkston; players, Randy Grogan, Gary Cras, Billy Forrest, Porter McCusid-on, James Smith, Bob Pinkston, Randy Chadwick, Bruce Scott and Ed Moore.

Astros: Managers — Martin Luther and Brent Hughes; players, Brown Crouch, David Hughes, Charles Gibbs, Barry Herndon, Karl Converse, Paul Roughmont, Dale Hughes, Mike Cathy, Jerry Inman, Ricky Edwards, Steve Carter and Jerry Duncan.

Phils: Managers — Jack Ward and James Clifton; players, Mitch Ward, David Alexander, Johnny Williams, Chris Clifton, Joe Poole, Ricky Jay, Jerry Howard, Don Thompson, Jamie Brunk and Drake Hall.

Notes: Manager — David
Pitts; players, Monty Cathey, Charles Robinson, Paul Rushing, Clifford Bumpha, Bruce Miller, Danny Chadwick, Charles Scott, Tim Recker, Ralph Dibble, John David Johnson and Ricky Darnell.

Any boy who has not signed up as yet and was born between August 1, 1953 and July 31, 1955, and lives in Murray or Calloway may do so by calling Mr. Crouch at 753-1449.

Mrs. Mary Bazzell Funeral Held Today

Mrs. Mary J. Bazzell, 77, widow of Richard D. Bazzell, died at 8:25 a.m. Sunday at Mayfield Hospital.

Mrs. Bazzell was a member of Farmington Church of Christ.

She is survived by two sons,
Richard Bazzell of Mayfield, and Howard Bazzell of Paducah;
four daughters, Miss Mary Bazzell of Dayton, Ohio, Mrs.
Virginia Jones of Ypsilanti, Mich.; Mrs. Homer Edwards of Sedalia and Mrs. William Hall of Mayfield; 14 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. today at Roberts Funeral Chapel with James Shockey and Harry Yates officiating. Burial was in Coldwater Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Novel Pen-grass, Flavil Pendergrass, Clarence Mayfield, B. H. Hughes,
Edwin Warren and Jewel Howard.

David Slay Enters U.S. Marine Corps

David Slay of Panama
Shores will be entering the U.S.
Marine Corps this summer after he receives his Bachelor of Science degree in speech from Murray State University this month.

Slay will leave in August for Quantico, Va., for Officers Candidate Course and will be commissioned a second lieutenant after ten weeks. His wife will be able to join him following his OCC.

Mr. and Mrs. Slay resided on South 8th Street until last year when they moved to Panama Shores. Both Slay and his wife, the former Mary Ann Thomas, are formerly from Jefferson City, Mo. Mrs. Slay is a former employee of The Cherry's.

ATTENDS MEET

CHICAGO — Eight educational, governmental and community leaders from Kentucky are participating in a Midwest regional, invitational conference on the education of handicapped children here this week. Attending from this area was Billie Downing, Associate Professor at Murray State University.

Industrial Arts Club Plans Open House On Weekend

The Industrial Arts Club of Murray State University will sponsor its annual open house from 12 noon on Sunday, May 26, until 12 noon Tuesday, May 28.

The event will be held in the Applied Science building on the Murray campus. Projects and drawings which were designed and constructed during the past two semesters will be on display.

Judges will evaluate the work and awards will be given to those students who have done outstanding work.

Guides will also be available to direct visitors.

Final Exhibit Of Year On Display

The final art exhibit of the year at Murray State University features the works of Neal D'Feresa, assistant professor of art at Berea College in Berea, Ky.

The display may be seen through June 15 in the Mary Hall Gallery on the third floor of the fine arts building. The gallery is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, 9 to noon on Saturdays, and 2 to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

Ten art shows have been sponsored by the MSU division of art during the academic year. Miss Clara Eagle is director of the art division. John Mooney is director of the gallery.

FOUR CITED

Four persons were cited by the Murray Police Department after midnight this morning, according to the department records.

They were three for driving while intoxicated and one for public drunkenness. This makes a total of thirty-three persons cited for DWI in the month of May, according to Chief of Police Brent Manning.

A Night In Greece Is Ball Theme

Murray residents will dance surrounded by Grecian columns, on June 8, for "A Night in Greece," at the fourth annual Charity Ball presented by the Murray Women's Club for the benefit of the Murray-Calloway County Mental Health Clinic.

Beautiful columns entwined with ivy, surrounding the bandstand and dance floor will decorate the ballroom of the Murray State University's student union building for the affair.

Decorations for the evening were designed by Mrs. Gene Geurin, teacher of art in the Murray City School system.
Mrs. Rob Ray, chairman of the decorations committee, was assisted by Mesdames Eff Birdsong, Ed Chrisman, J. B. Scott, Jr., Ron Christopher, Larry
Wells, William Harvey, Gene Geurin, and Hel Houston.

This year's event will feature two orchestras providing continuous music from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m.

(Continued on Back Page)

Economic Chaos Hits France; Reds Demand DeGaulle To Step Down

Miss Lusanne Lilly
Wins Traineeship
At Mayo Clinic

Miss Lusanne Lilly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Lilly, 500 South Sixteenth Street, has been notified of her appointment to a summer traineeship in surgical pathology at the Mayo Graduate School of Medicine, associated with the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn. The appointment includes a scholarship to cover travel and living costs during the eight weeks of the program.

Valedictorian of the 1962 graduating class of Murray High School, the local young woman completed her pre-medical studies at Murray State University and was graduated summa cum laude in the class of 1966. She was chosen as the outstanding woman graduate of that year, is listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," and is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta Social Sorority.

Miss Lilly is completing her second year at the School of Medicine, Vanderbilt University, and will spend several days at home during the interval between the conclusion of the present semester and the beginning of her assignment at Rochester.

Sister Of Local Woman Succumbs

Word has been received here of the death Friday of Mrs. William M. Reed in El Paso, Tex.
after an extended illness.

Mrs. Reed, 61, was a past principal of Henry Clay School in Paducah and a former resident of Mayfield.

Survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Hancock, Mayfield, and Mrs. R. A. Johnson, Murray, and a brother, Kenneth McRae, Mayfield.

Funeral and burial services were held Monday in El Paso.

BOWLING LEAGUE

All ladies interested in forming an afternoon bowling league are asked to meet at Corvette Lanes on Wednesday,
May 22, at one p.m.

Over 8 Million On Strike, Students Touch Off Crisis

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle granted amnesty today for student leaders who touched off the nation's strike crisis. But the number of workers on strike soared to 8 million and economic chaos was so great the stock market closed.
Banks shut their doors in the face of those wanting their money.

Paris Bourse announced it would quote no stock issues because "the existing conditions do not permit fixing prices under regular techniques." The bank closings were largely responsible for the action.

Two million more workers walked off their jobs today.
Communist party leaders openly demanded De Gaulle be replaced—and hoped to do that through a vote of censure Wednesday.

De Gaulle approved a law giving amnesty to all persons convicted in the Latin quarter noting that started the upheaval. The move, taken to quell the passions of the rebellious students, came at an emergency cabinet meeting.

The amnesty bill goes to the assembly Wednesday and is expected to win immediate approval. It would grant amnesty to all students and others arrested in the bloody 1968 including four who were sentenced to death.

(Continued on Back Page)

Workshop On The Lake Area Ministry Is Held Recently

Twenty-nine ministers and resort operators met on May 10 at Bob's Smorgasbord, Gilbertsville, Kentucky for a workshop on "Tourism and the Church's Opportunity."

Robert Howse, representing TVA, suggested to the group that all persons working with tourists might do well to adopt some of the goals set forth by the naturalists (forest rangers, conservationists, etc.). He said that three goals of the naturalists to help tourists and vacationers are: "to find a sense of peace, to find a sense of values, and to find a sense of self."

Mr. Howse said that the preservation of our natural resources is not the responsibility of just a few persons. He said,
"The problem of erosion involves our cities, our suburbs, and our road development projects as well as our forests, farms, and waterways."

Rev. William Smothers, who serves in The Lakes Area Ministry near Branson, Missouri, pointed out the fact that not all resort operators are interested in the people they serve.
He said that some resort operators will sarcastically say, "I love tourists; I wish they'd stay home and just send their money."

(Continued on Back Page)

Man Badly Burned By Tar Monday

Edward Denedee is listed in fair condition this morning by officials at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

The patient suffered second and third degree burns on the face, hands, and back when he reportedly was burned when he tripped and fell into some tar yesterday. No other details of the accident could be determined.

RIDING CLUB

The Calloway Riding Club will have a pollock supper at the Fairgrounds on Thursday, May 23, at seven p.m. Everyone is urged to attend as plans will be made for the show on Saturday night.

WEATHER REPORT

by United Press International Partly cloudy and cool today and tonight. High today mostly in the 60s. Low tonight in 40s.
Cloudier and cool Wednesday with chance of a few showers mainly west.

Kentucky Lake: 7 a.m. 35.1, no change; below dam 31.2, up 0.8; six gates open.
Barkley Lake: 7 a.m. 35.1, down 0.1; below dam 32.6, up 2.6; eight gates open.
Sunrise 5:44; sunset 8:02.
Moon rose 3:02 a.m.

"An Evening in Greece" has been selected as the theme for the 1968 Charity Ball.
Those attending will be surrounded with stately Grecian columns entwined with ivy. Above Mrs. Rob Ray, left, Chairman of the Decorations Committee, discusses the project with Mrs. Ed Chrisman and Mrs. Eff Birdsong.

THE LEDGER & TIMES

PUBLISHED by LEDGER & TIMES PUBLISHING COMPANY, Inc., Consolidation of the Murray Ledger, The Calloway Times, and The Times-Herald, October 20, 1928, and the West Kentuckian, January 1, 1943.

185 N. 4th Street, Murray, Kentucky 42071

JAMES C. WILLIAMS, PUBLISHER

We reserve the right to reject any advertising, letters to the Editor, or Public Voice items which, in our opinion, are not for the best interest of our readers.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES: WALLACE WITMER CO., 1500 Madison Ave., Memphis, Tenn.; Time & Life Bldg., New York, N.Y., Stephenson Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

Entered at the Post Office, Murray, Kentucky, for transmission as Second Class Matter

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier in Murray, per week 25c, per month $1.10. In Calloway and adjoining counties, per year, $5.50; Zones 1 & 2, $9.00; Elsewhere $11.00. All service subscriptions $8.00.

"The Outstanding Civic Asset of a Community is the Integrity of Its Newspaper"

TUESDAY — MAY 21, 1968

Quotes From The News

— UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

CAMP EAGLE, South Vietnam — Spec. 5 Dennis Stoutman, a timid U.S. Army duplicating machine operator who took his rifle and drove off a squad of invading North Vietnamese at a camp near Hue: "Somebody had to do it."

LONDON — Television reporter John Morgan, asking Richard Burton why he bought his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, a very large and expensive diamond ring: "What's a nice Welsh Socialist like you doing buying 127,000-pound ($304,800) rings?"

WASHINGTON — The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, cautioning young Negroes at the Poor People's "Resurrection City" campsite not to squabble among themselves: "The real enemy is not here, it is up on Capitol Hill."

CAPE TOWN, South Africa — Dr. Philip Blaiberg, history's first successful heart transplant patient, after playing a little soccer Monday: "This is the finest morning of my life."

Bible Thought for Today

Now there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother... and the disciple standing by, whom he loved.

— John 19:25 and 26

Family and friends are any man's greatest asset in joy or in sorrow.

Ten Years Ago Today

LEDGER & TIMES FILE

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Curd will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on May 25 at their home on North 16th Street.

Kenneth Workman of Murray is one of six pledges initiated into Kappa Pi, national honorary art fraternity at Murray State College.

Pat Thomas Redden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Redden of Murray, will receive his degree from the University of Kentucky. He is getting his degree in engineering.

A pine snake was taken alive on Kentucky Lake by Herbert Robertson of Murray on a recent fishing expedition, according to the report in the column, "Hooks and Anglers" by Jim Harmon.

20 Years Ago Today

LEDGER & TIMES FILE

Murray Hospital has been accepted for membership in the American Hospital Association, Carman Graham, administrator, announced today. The hospital has also been recognized by the American Medical Association.

Boys Scouts of Murray have made plans to clear the plot of ground where Nathan B. Stubblefield, inventor of radio, is buried. Scout Master Ralph Wear announced today.

The Murray Roller Rink will open tonight in the Outland tobacco factory on Maple Street, according to the owners, E. W. Outland and R. B. Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Conner, Star Route, Mayfield, announce the marriage of their daughter, Linda Sue, to Charles D. Butterworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Butterworth of Lynn Grove.

SAIGON'S AMBASSADOR to the U.S., Bui Diem, keeps up on peace parley points in Paris with a conference with W. Averell Harriman, chief U.S. negotiator. He's an observer.

ALMANAC

by United Press International
Today is Tuesday, May 21, the 142nd day of 1968 with 226 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history: In 1832, what is considered the first Democratic National Convention got underway in Baltimore.

In 1881, Clara Barton organized the first American Red Cross in Washington.

In 1941, President Roosevelt proclaimed "an unlimited state of national emergency."

In 1962, the American Medical Association labeled President Kennedy's proposed Medi-

Commissioner's Sale

NOTICE OF SALE
THE COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY, CALLOWAY Circuit Court Ruby Darnell Forrest, and husband, W. A. Forrest; W. A. Forrest, Adm'r of the Estate of Shellie Cooper Collins.

VERSUS
Thomas Broach, wife, and Defendant.
By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Calloway Circuit Court rendered at the May 2 Rule Term thereof 1968, in the above cause, for the settlement of estate I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in the Murray, Kentucky, to the highest bidder, at public auction on the 27th day of May, 1968, at 1:30 O'clock p. m., or thereabout, upon a credit of 6 months, the following described property, to-wit:

"Being a part of the Northeast Quarter of Section 21, Township 2, Range 3, East, and more specifically described as follows: "One (1) acre, more or less, being 12-2/3 poles square, described as follows: Beginning at a stake on the East side of Lynn Grove Road at the South side of old private road (referred to in preceding deed as the South side of Will Cooper Road); thence East with the South side of old private road 12-2/3 poles, to a stake; thence South, parallel with Lynn Grove Road, 12-2/3 poles to a stake; thence West, parallel with old private road, 12-2/3 poles to a stake on East side of Lynn Grove Road; thence North with East side of Lynn Grove Road 12-2/3 poles to the point of beginning. (The Northwest corner of this tract is approximately 70 poles North of the Hardy Adams Road (R.H. 1101))."

For the purchase price, the purchaser must execute bond, with approved securities, being legal interest from the day of sale, until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Darrell Shoemaker, Master Commissioner, Calloway Circuit Court 7-14-21-C

Commissioner's Sale

NOTICE OF SALE
THE COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY, CALLOWAY Circuit Court Mattie Ann Tripp, Et'Al, Plaintiff.

VERSUS
Ruby Tripp, Et'Al, Defendant.
By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Calloway Circuit Court rendered at the April Rule Term thereof 1968, in the above cause, for the settlement of estate I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in the Murray, Kentucky, to the highest bidder, at public auction on the 27th day of May, 1968, at 1:00 O'clock p. m., or thereabout, upon a credit of 6 months, the following described property, to-wit:

"Tract No. 2, known as the A. G. Hale tract. Being out of the West corner of the Northeast Quarter of Section 31, Township 8, Range 6, and beginning at the Northwest corner of said Quarter; thence Southeast with Liberty Road to a rock with the West side of pointers; thence North 1/4 N. 1/4 S. 1/4 E. 1/4 line; thence West with said line to the beginning containing ten (10) acres more or less."

All creditors, heirs and devisees are to file their claim with the Master Commissioner on or before the day the above property is to be sold.

For the purchase price, the purchaser must execute bond, with approved securities, bearing legal interest from the day of sale, until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Darrell Shoemaker, Master Commissioner, Calloway Circuit Court 7-14-21-C

SEPARATE DEVELOPMENT

BULAWAYO, Rhodesia — Premier Ian Smith said Friday that separate development was the answer if blacks and whites were to maintain good relations in Rhodesia. Smith's comment was the closest he has come to endorsing a form of South African style apartheid, or separation of races. Smith's country unilaterally declared its independence from Britain nearly two years ago.

care legislation a "cruel hoax." A thought for the day — British writer Richard Garnett said — "The three eldest children of necessity, God, the world and love."

FOR HIRE — Christine Fovargue, 21, doesn't seem disturbed after being advertised for hire as a housekeeper and companion for three months by her husband Peter in Peterborough, England. He needed the money to pay fines on two charges of alleged housebreaking. Or serve three months on each.

Kentucky Department Agriculture

Under Kentucky statutes, the Commissioner of Agriculture serves as chairman of the State Board of Agriculture. I am certainly looking forward to working with the outstanding men who will comprise the board during the coming four years.

Six new members have been appointed to the board with Hogen Tester, Lancaster, being re-appointed for another term. The other man serving on the nine-member board is Dr. Charles E. Barnhart, director of the University of Kentucky Experiment Station. Dr. Barnhart, who also holds statutory membership, will serve as vice chairman.

I feel honored in having the opportunity of serving agriculture in association with these men. All of them are well-versed in agriculture and agribusiness. Tester is a farmer, tobacco warehouseman and livestock market operator. The new members named to the board are as follows:

M. M. Botto, Princeton, farmer and former State director of the Division of Vocational Agricultural Education of the Department of Education.
W. B. Grant, Tolleboro, tobacco warehouseman, farmer and livestock breeder.
Dr. Lynnwood Shirrell, Frankfort, veterinarian.
Rex Proffitt, Tompkinsville, realtor, farmer and livestock breeder.

Hoger Walthall, Cave City, farmer, livestock breeder, and director of the National Farmers Organization.
Jack Welch, Owensboro, farmer and director and past president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation.

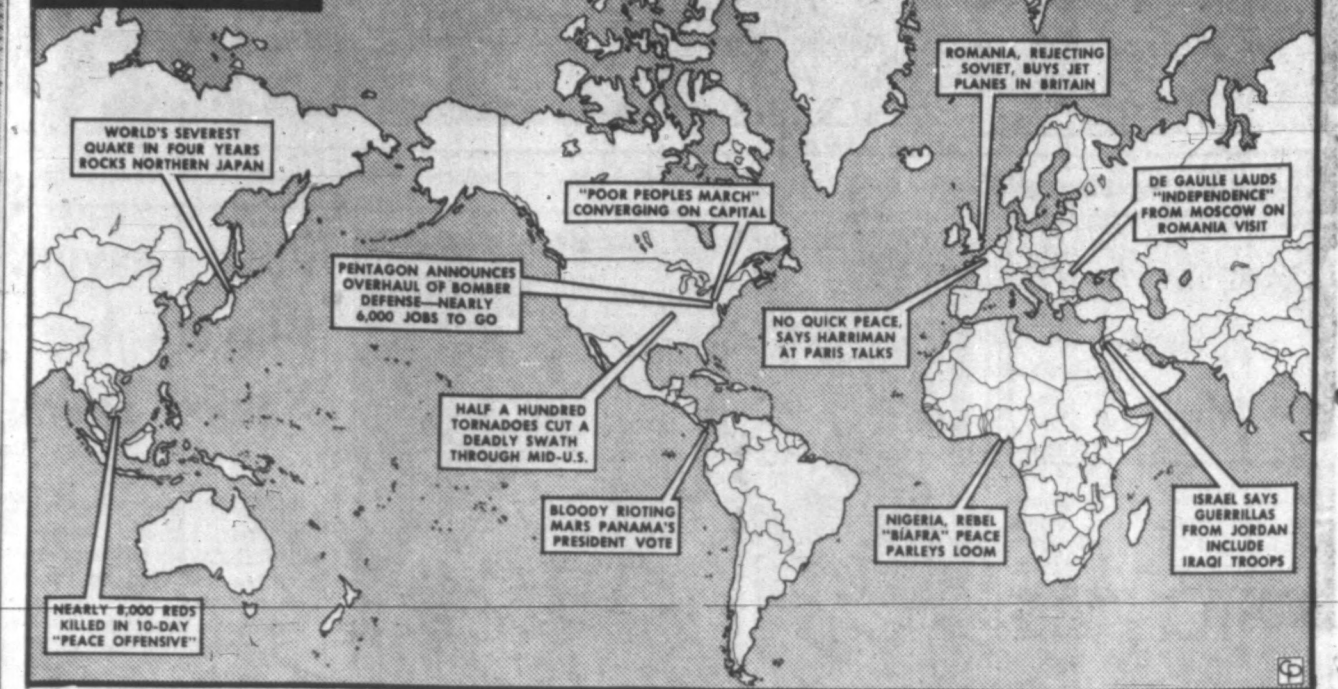

According to the Kentucky statute which authorizes the board, the seven members "from the state-at-large shall be experienced and practical farmers or agriculturists." I feel these men meet the requirements as outlined by the legislators who formed the State Board of Agriculture.

Members of the State Board not only advise the Commissioner as to the general operation of the Department, but also directly participate in the formulation and application of regulations.

With agriculture being Kentucky's most basic enterprise, it is important that those who design and implement agricultural regulations know the practical mechanics of the industry. I feel sure the State Board members will discharge their duties in a responsible and energetic manner.

Last week the Farm Press and Radio Association of Kentucky named E. P. Hilton as its "Man of the Year in Kentucky Agriculture." He served as State director of Agricultural

WORLD WEEK

NAZI ON TRIAL

HAMBURG, West Germany — A former Hamburg police clerk went on trial Friday on charges of helping kill more than 200 Jews while he was a Nazi SS man in Poland during World War II. The trial of Wilhelm Rosenbaum, 53, in jail since 1961, was expected to last three months.

SIX MINERS DIE

SAINT-ETIENNE, France — Coal dust set off an explosion in a mine Friday, killing six miners. Three other miners were rescued with minor injuries in the blast at Charles Coal Mines at nearby Roche-Le-Mollers.

Press Groups Adds $100 To MSU Journalism Department

The West Kentucky Press Association has contributed $100 to the Journalism fund of Murray State University.

Dr. L. J. Horton, Director of Journalism at Murray State, said the money would be used to aid the department in its expanding program. In a letter to Ben Boone, president of the West Kentucky Press Association and editor of the Todd County Standard at Elkton, Ky., President Harry Sparks commented: "Having lived in West Kentucky many years, I am aware of the important role that the newspapers of this section are playing in maintaining a free and responsible press. It is our purpose to build an outstanding Journalism department on our campus."

Dr. Horton in his annual report to President Sparks listed the following achievements in the department during the past ten months:

1. A complete major is now being offered in Journalism, leading to the BA degree.
2. The department is offering a master's degree in Journalism. The first graduate assistant in Journalism is Robert McGaughey.
3. An internship program for Journalism students has been established. The first two interns are: Miss Deb Mathis, Bardwell, appointed summer staffer for the Elizabethtown News; and Paul F. Knue, Lawrenceburg, ind., staffer for the Dearborn County Register at Lawrenceburg.
4. New quarters and classroom have been assigned to the Journalism director in the offices formerly occupied by the presidents of Murray State University.
5. Twenty-five specially designed desks have been purchased for a reporters' laboratory and classroom.
6. Twenty-seven new typewriters have been purchased for students in Journalism classes.
7. New books, references, magazines and publications have been ordered for the library and Journalism reading room.
8. Membership has been secured or reestablished with the following professional associations:
  1. Association for Education in Journalism
  2. Kentucky Press Association
  3. Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association
  4. West Kentucky Press Association
  5. Institute of Newspaper Controller & Finance Officers (National)
  6. Fourteen new courses have been added to the curriculum. They include Graphic Arts, Radio-TV News, Newspaper and Communications Law, Public Relations, Advanced Feature and Magazine Writing, Advertising Copy and Design, Journalism Internship, Research, Literature of Journalism, Advanced Public Relations and Thesis.

HANOI'S CHIEF negotiator in Paris, Xuan Thuy, wears a dour look as he is driven away from a peace session.

FORMER MINISTER TRIED
JAKARTA — Two former ministers in the cabinet of former President Sukarno will go on trial Monday in a special antisuicide court. They are former Information Minister Achmad and former resettlement Minister Achadi. They were arrested in March, 1966 on charges of involvement in the 1965 abortive Communist coup.

FAVOR DIVORCE

ROME — A magazine poll indicated Friday more than 58 per cent of the population in Catholic Italy believes the nation should have a divorce law. The poll result was regarded as damaging to the Christian Democratic party, the only major Italian party that opposes a divorce law, because it faces national elections May 19 in which divorce is a major issue.

The dome of the State Capitol in Frankfort is modeled after the dome over Napoleon's tomb.

CAPRO
Continuous Showing
From 1 p.m. Daily

★ Ends Today ★ Sandy Dennis in
'SWEET
NOVEMBER'

★ Wed. thru Sat. ★ DIRECT FROM ITS ROADSHOW ENGAGEMENT!

★★★★
"A MASTERPIECE"
—N.Y. DAILY NEWS EDITORIAL

"AN AWESOMELY ABSORBING FILM!"
—LIFE

20th Century-Fox presents
THE DINO DE LAURENTIS Production of THE BIBLE

In The Beginning
In D-150
Color by DeLuxe

Features as...
1:30 - 4:30 - 7:30
Adm. - 1.50 & 75c

Home Improvement Specials

Sears, Roebuck & Co.

- |  |   |  |
|--|---|--|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Awnings-Custom Cloth, Metal<input type="checkbox"/> Central Heating, Cooling Systems<input type="checkbox"/> Combination Windows, Doors<input type="checkbox"/> Complete Custom Kitchens<input type="checkbox"/> Complete Custom Bathrooms<input type="checkbox"/> Patio, Screen Enclosures<input type="checkbox"/> Water Softeners | <input type="checkbox"/> Urnless Doors, Openers<input type="checkbox"/> Steel or Wood Fencing<input type="checkbox"/> Lawn Sprinkler Systems<input type="checkbox"/> Sinks, Custom Countertops<input type="checkbox"/> Roofing, Siding<input type="checkbox"/> Garbage Disposers<input type="checkbox"/> Recreation Rooms<input type="checkbox"/> Riding Tractors | <input type="checkbox"/> Supplemental Heating<input type="checkbox"/> Carpet Smooth Surface<input type="checkbox"/> Dining Lounges<input type="checkbox"/> Wall Tile<input type="checkbox"/> Portable Dishwashers<input type="checkbox"/> Built-in Dishwashers<input type="checkbox"/> Water Systems |
|--|---|--|

Mobile Home Central Air Conditioning

Indian War Dance

CLEVELAND—Pitcher Steve Hargan (34) of the Cleveland Indians, jumps out of the way to allow first baseman Tony Horton to touch the bag ahead of Mark Belanger of Baltimore. Cleveland won both games of the twin bill 11-4 and 2-4.

Minnesota Twins Drop Game To Detroit Tigers Monday

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins, who lost the pennant on the final day of the season last year, seem intent on accomplishing the task a little earlier this year.

The Twins should have beaten Detroit 3-1 on Jim Merritt's six-hitter Monday night to move within three games of the league-leading Tigers.

Instead, the Twins-losing like a bad sandlot team—made four errors to let in three earned runs and hand the Tigers a 4-3 triumph in 10 innings.

The loss dropped the Twins five games back of the Tigers and enabled Detroit to stretch its lead to 2½ games over second place Cleveland.

Tenth Inning Win
The Tigers won the game with two infield grounders with two out in the 10th. Merritt, who was tagged for Willie Horton's leadoff homer in the ninth—the only earned run off him—tied the game 3-3, was breezing along in the 10th as he retired the first two batters.

Jack Hernandez playing at shortstop, made the first 10th inning error when he tossed Al Kaline's grounder into the seats behind first base to allow Kaline to reach second.

Manager Cal Ermer then decided to bring in Al Worthington to pitch to Bill Freehan. Freehan hit another grounder towards short and third baseman Ron Clark cut in front of Hernandez to make the play. But the ball skidded through his legs to short leftfield where Kaline scored.

The recipient of all this generosity was Denny McLain, who gave up seven hits to boost his mark to 6-1. He's the first six-game winner in the league this year and he's 9-3 lifetime against the Twins.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York stopped Washington 6-1, Baltimore nipped Chicago 2-1 and California edged Boston 5-4 in 11 innings.

In the National League, New York nipped Pittsburgh 2-1, Atlanta edged San Francisco 6-5, Cincinnati topped Houston 3-2 and St. Louis beat Los Angeles 2-1.

Bouton Recovering
Jim Bouton, who got into the pitching rotation because Al Downing is suffering from arm trouble, tossed his first complete game since Aug. 27, 1966 as the Yankees edged Washington, 2-1, in 11 innings. Bouton, a 21 and 18 game winner with the Yankee pennant teams of 1963 and 1964, has had arm trouble of his own the past three years but he was sharp against the Senators as he tossed an eight-hitter. Dick Bosman, 0-5, took the loss.

Boog Powell's seventh homer, a two-run blast in the third inning, carried Baltimore past Chicago. Powell's homer came off Jack Fisher, now 0-2. Jim Harbin pitched a six hitter to gain the victory and boost his record to 5-1.

Jim Fregosi's 11th inning single, his fourth hit of the game, drove in the deciding run as the Angels edged Boston. Bob Rodgers led off the 11th with a single and was sacrificed to second. Tom Burgmeier ran for him and scored when Fregosi stroked his two-out single off Gary Waslewski. Clyde Wright got the win in relief. Boston had tied the game 4-4 on Rico Petrocelli's two-run homer in the ninth.

Sports on TV

Tuesday, May 21

7-9:30 p. m.—Baseball . . . Atlanta vs. San Francisco Ch. 4.

9:30-10 p. m.—Car and Truck . . . Ch. 4.

Thursday, May 23

10:30-11 p. m.—Munson Outdoors . . . Ch. 8.

Saturday, May 25

12:30-1 p. m.—Car and Truck . . . Ch. 4.

1-4 p. m.—Baseball . . . Boston vs. Minnesota . . . Ch. 4.

2-2:30 p. m.—The Outdoorsman . . . Ch. 8.

4-5:30 p. m.—Wide world of Sports . . . Ch. 8.

KASZAS DEBUTS

NEW YORK 679 — Veteran

halfback Larry Kaszas is expected to make his debut as a member of the New York Generals soccer team tonight in the Generals' game against the Atlanta Chiefs at Atlanta.

SPORTS

GAJE GARRISON - Sports Editor

Standings

By United Press International

National League	W.	L.	Pct.	GB
St. Louis	21	14	.600	—
Atlanta	21	16	.568	1
San Fran.	20	17	.541	2
Cincinnati	19	17	.528	2½
Phil.	17	18	.486	3
Chicago	19	19	.500	3½
Los Angeles	17	21	.447	5½
New York	16	20	.444	5½
Pittsburgh	15	19	.441	5½
Houston	15	21	.417	6½

Monday's Results	W.	L.	Pct.	GB
New York 2 Pittsburgh 1 n
Atlanta 6 San Francisco 5 n
Cincinnati 3 Houston 2 n
St. Louis 2 Los Angeles 1 n
Today's Probable Pitchers
Pittsburgh, McBean 5-3 at New York, Seaver 2-3, 2:05 p. m.
Philadelphia, Wise 3-1 at Chicago, Nye 2-4, 2:30 p. m.
San Francisco, Sadecki 5-3 at Atlanta, Britton 2-0, 8:05 p. m.
Houston, Dierker 3-6 at Cincinnati, Pappas 2-3, 8:05 p. m.
Los Angeles, Singer 3-5 at St. Louis, Washburn 3-2, 9:00 p. m.

Wednesday's Games	W.	L.	Pct.	GB
Pittsburgh at Chicago
New York at Philadelphia, n
San Francisco at Atlanta, n
Houston at Cincinnati
Los Angeles at St. Louis, n

American League	W.	L.	Pct.	GB
Detroit	23	12	.657	—
Cleveland	20	14	.583	2½
Baltimore	19	16	.543	4
Boston	18	17	.514	5
Minnesota	18	17	.514	5
California	17	19	.472	6½
Chicago	15	18	.455	7
Oakland	15	20	.429	8
Wash.	15	21	.417	8½
New York	15	21	.417	8½

Monday's Results	W.	L.	Pct.	GB
Detroit 4 Minnesota 3, 10 ins., night
New York 6 Washington 1 n
Baltimore 2 Chicago 1 n
California 5 Boston 4 11 ins., night
Today's Probable Pitchers
Cleveland, Tiant 5-3 and McDowell 4-2 at Oakland, Odum 2-3 and Dobson 2-3, 2:05 p. m.
Boston, Ellsworth 4-2 at California, Brunet 4-3, 11:00 p. m.
Detroit, Sparm 3-3 at Minnesota, Chance 3-4, 9:00 p. m.
New York, Stottlemyre 4-3 at Washington, Coleman 2-2, 8:05 p. m.
Chicago, Horien 3-5 at Baltimore, Trabner 3-1, 8:00 p. m.

Wednesday's Games	W.	L.	Pct.	GB
Cleveland at Oakland, n
Boston at California, n
Detroit at Minnesota, n
Chicago at Washington, n
Baltimore at New York, n

Other OVC champions in action for Murray will be Tommy Turner, 440-yard dash, and Ed Smith, 120-yard high hurdles. Turner set a new conference record in the 440 of 47 flat and ran a 45.7 lap for the mile relay. Smith ran the high hurdles in 14.4.

Other members of the champion 440 relay are Eddie Hearne, Turner, and Larry Coleman. The relay ran a record-breaking 41 flat at the OVC but had a 40.6 in the Drake Relays. Hearne was second to Freeman in the OVC 100 and Coleman was third.

The women's team won a quadrangular meet Saturday at Normal, Illinois, against SIU, Illinois State, and the University of Illinois. The women Racers scored 59 points to Illinois State's 27, SIU's 20, and U of I's 16.

Winning first places for the team were Cheryl Underwood, long jump; Diana Warner, 50-yard dash; Sandy Grimes, 220 dash; Carla Coffey, 100-yard dash, and the 440 relay of Miss Warner, Lou Kimble, Ruth Bennett, and Sheila Hampton.

Field events for tomorrow's meet will begin at 7 p. m., track events at 7:30.

COLOR TVs
As Low As $339.95 with trade

ONLY CURTIS-MATHES OFFERS THE 8-YEAR PICTURE TUBE WARRANTY Complete Antenna & Tower Service

KELVINATOR APPLIANCES
— Fast, Reliable Service —

TV Service Center
Hafford James - Owner
Bobby H. Wilson - Sales & Service
312 N. 4th Street Phone 753-5865

"WE TRULY APPRECIATE YOUR BUSINESS"

Cincinnati Reds Victorious Over Astros Monday Night

By FRANK P. De GEORGES
UPI Sports Writer

When Alex Johnson says "hello" it's a filibuster. He's that quiet.

But this year, he's more than compensating for his natural reticence by speaking loudly.

Alex Johnson

and often with his b&w.

"Mr. Personality," as Johnson is dubbed by teammate Tommy Helms, doubled home Pete Rose to clinch a two-run ninth inning rally which gave the Cincinnati Reds a 3-2 victory over the Houston Astros Monday night.

It was Johnson's third straight game-winning hit for the Reds.

His game-winning double came after the Reds tied the score on pinch-hitter Mack Jones' walk, a sacrifice and Pete Rose's single. Bill Kelso was the winning pitcher in relief. He is now 3-0.

In the only other NL action, the Cardinals edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1 behind the two-hit pitching of Larry Jaster. Atlanta caught the San Francisco Giants, 6-5, in the ninth, and the New York Mets stopped Pittsburgh 2-1.

In the American League, Detroit whipped Minnesota 4-3, New York beat Washington 6-1, Baltimore topped Chicago 2-1, and California edged Boston 5-4 in 11 innings.

Jaster, who shut out the Dodgers a record five times in 1966, gained his second victory of the season, allowing only a single by Paul Popovich in the fifth inning a single by Wes Parker with two out in the ninth. Los Angeles scored its only run without a hit in the first inning.

The Cardinals tied the score in their half of the first on a single by Bobby Tolan and a double by Orlando Cepeda and broke the 1-1 tie in the eighth when Lou Brock doubled for his third hit of the game and Tolan followed with a single. Don Sutton 2-2 was the loser.

Felipe Alou's bases-loaded single with none out in the bottom of the ninth gave the Braves their victory over the Giants and moved them into second place in the National League.

Ed Charles socked his second home run of the game leading off the ninth to put the Pirates down to their fourth straight defeat. The Pirates, who have now lost six of their last seven games and have dropped seven games this season in the ninth inning, scored their only run in the fifth.

GILLOOLY DIES

BOSTON 679 — John Gillooly, veteran sports writer and columnist for the Boston Record American, died Friday of a heart attack. He was 59. Gillooly joined the newspaper staff in 1930 and became a full-time columnist in 1958.

Coupon Books

known as

GOLDEN CHECKS

will not be honored at any of the following businesses, until further notice:

GENO'S

TRENHOLMS

WILEYS

5 POINTS ASHLAND

Thank You for Your Cooperation

Specially Built For Bilbrey's Full Year Guarantee

MODEL IHDP4228 22" Deluxe

EASY GLIDE BALL BEARING WHEELS.

REINFORCED CORNERS GIVES ADDED STRENGTH AND RIGIDITY TO DECK.

CHROME PLATED FRONT PLATE (ADJUSTABLE) FOR CUTTING HIGH GRASS AND WEEDS.

We Service-We Trade-We Rent

BILBREY'S

Car & Home Supply

210 East Main Street 753-5617

EASY TERMS

Mrs. J. B. Burkeen . . .

Phone 753-1917 or 753-4947

Woman's World

Miss Kay Minor Honored At Tea At The Bennett Home

Miss Kay Minor, June 8th bride-elect of Glen Nanny was the honoree at a delightfully planned tea held at the home of Mrs. Helen Bennett, May 11.

The gracious hostesses for the bridal occasion were Mrs. Helen Bennett, William Nall, Charles Sexton, J. B. Wilson, John Quertemous, Howard Tinsworth, and H. J. Bryan.

Receiving the guests with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Ken R. Minor, and her mother-in-law to be, Mrs. M. C. Ellis. Hostesses presented corsages to the honoree and the mothers.

Miss Minor chose to wear for the occasion a lovely tulle dress of peuter silk trimmed with white organza ruffles at the neck. Mrs. Minor wore a blue linen with embroidery trim at the hemline. Mrs. Ellis wore a pink linen with a silk scarf of shades of pink at the neck.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Wilson asked them to sign the register at a round table centered with an arrangement of pink roses.

The beautifully appointed tea table was overlaid with a white imported linen cloth centered with a gorgeous centerpiece of yellow and white stock, snap dragons and peonies and baby breath in a silver container flanked by white candles in silver holders. The appointments were all in silver. Pink roses were used at vantage points in the living room and den.

Guests called between the hours of three and five o'clock in the afternoon.

Adams Home Scene Of Coldwater Meet

The Coldwater Homemakers Club held its May meeting in the home of Mrs. Earl Adams. Devotion was led by Mrs. Edd Billington reading Mark 1:16-20, with prayer by Mrs. Newell Doores. The roll call was answered by a favorite Bible verse and answering were Mrs. Earl Adams, Mrs. Edd Billington, Mrs. Newell Doores, Mrs. Udel Smith, Mrs. Noble Fuqua, Mrs. Van R. Burnett, Mrs. Herman Darnell, Mrs. Kenton Brouch, Mrs. Hill Adams, and a visitor, Mrs. Lesby Bass.

Mrs. Udel Smith made announcements and the club was proud of 100 per cent attendance at the meeting.

The lesson was given by Mrs. Earl Adams on "Planning and Zoning". The advantages of proper zoning were pointed out. Proper zoning can lead to improving property value for the county people just as well as in the city. This could avoid undesirable buildings of various types built close enough to a dwelling house as to make living in it unpleasant for the occupant.

Mrs. Newell Doores led the recreation and the meeting adjourned to enjoy the refreshments served by Mrs. Earl Adams.

Morris Home Scene Of Circle Meeting

Mrs. Garnett Morris was hostess for the meeting of Circle IV of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church held Tuesday, May 14, at two-thirty o'clock in the afternoon.

The program on "By Other Means" was presented by Mrs. Edgar Price and Mrs. R. A. Slinker. Prayers were led by Mrs. Amanda White, Mrs. Price, and Mrs. E. C. Jones.

Mrs. Slinker, chairman, presided. Other members present were Mesdames J. M. Linn, Bailey Riggins, Neva Waters, Velma Wischard, Ura Stanley, and Miss Juanita Jones. Mrs. Luther Downs was a visitor.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Morris.

Judy Hina Presents Program At Beta Sigma Phi Meeting

The regular meeting of the Gamma Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held on May 13 at the Community Center on Ellis Drive with Mary Ann Wren and Carol Sims serving as hostesses.

The meeting was opened with the opening ritual by the following members present: Martha Ails, Mary Ellen Contri, Rowena Emerson, Darlene Ford, Martha Gardner, Pat Goodridge, Judy Hina, Janis Hogan, Suzanne McDougal, Marilyn Mikulek, Sue Overby, Carolyn Parks, Anna Requarth,

THEY LOVE CHILDREN—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McCabe, who have taken 77 foster children into their home in San Francisco through the years, now have 10 adopted children ranging in age from 3 to 14 years. McCabe is a retired Navy technician employed by an electronics firm.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Tuesday, May 21

Circle I of the First Methodist Church WSCS will meet at the church parlor at two p.m.

The Music Department of the Murray Woman's Club is scheduled to meet at the club house at 7:30 p.m. Hostesses are Mesdames Charles Simons, William Ryan, Paul Shahan, Vernon Showen, Morgan Sisk, Elizabeth Thomason, Leonard Whitmer, and Catalino Catalan.

The Penny Homemakers Club will meet at the Holiday Inn at 10:30 a.m. Members note change of meeting place.

Murray Assembly No. 19 Order of the Rainbow for Girls will meet at the Masonic Hall at seven p.m. Miss Betsy Riley will be installed as worthy advisor.

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church is scheduled to meet at the church at 9:30 a.m.

The Kirksey Elementary School PTA will meet at the school at 1:30 p.m. Special guests will be the mothers of first grade for the fall of 1968.

The First Baptist Church WMS will hold its general meeting at the church at 9:30 a.m.

Wednesday, May 22

The ladies day luncheon will be served at noon at the Calloway County Country Club. Hostesses are Mesdames James C. Hart, chairman, H. E. Christman, Glen Hodges, Bill Hina, Thomas Hogancamp, William Harvey, Bill Holt, Henry Holton, and J. B. Wilson.

Thursday, May 23

The Zeta Department of the Murray Woman's Club will have a patio supper at the club house at 6:30 p.m. Hostesses are Mesdames Lloyd W. Ramer, Robert Hahn, Ace McReynolds, Ralph McCuiston, C. H. Hulise, Haron West, John Pasco, James Westberry, and Robert Howard.

Grove 126 of the Woodmen of the World is scheduled to meet at the WOW Hall at 7:30.

The Magazine Club will meet at the home of Mrs. A. W. Russell, 321 North 7th Street, at 2:30 p.m. Rudolph Howard will be the guest speaker.

Veronica Moss, Carol Sims, Sylvia Thomas, Sonoma Thornton, Cindy Thresher, Linda Work, and Mary Ann Wren.

The roll call and minutes of the previous meeting were given by the secretary, Carol Sims, and the treasurer's report by Darlene Ford.

Judy Hina was in charge of the program, entitled "Truth". She gave a very interesting program on the subject and concluded with some pointers on football.

Committee reports were given by committee chairmen. A

Coke Party Held At Tracy Home For Phyllis Mitchell

Miss Phyllis Mitchell, June 8th bride-elect of Glen Nanny was the honoree at a delightful Coke party held at the home of Mrs. Albert Tracy on May 18.

The hostess for the occasion were Mrs. Albert Tracy and Mrs. William Nall.

Miss Mitchell chose to wear an apricot organza, full skirt, diagonal tucking on the blouse. Mrs. Mitchell wore a blue silk sheath. Mrs. Rudolph Thurman, her grandmother, wore a pink knit dress, her mother-in-law to be, Mrs. Lester Nanny, wore a blue organza sheath, tucked from the neck to hemline with blue lace daisies sprinkled across the bodice and short sleeves.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Nall and Mrs. Tracy asked them to sign the register.

The bride-elect was presented a gift corsage by the hostesses.

The dining room table was overlaid with a white imported linen cloth centered with a gorgeous centerpiece of shades of pink roses in a silver container. The pink candles were placed in silver and crystal hurricane holders.

Coke floats were served from a lovely silver punch bowl in the shape of a large brandy snifter from Spain. The appointments were all in silver. The pink roses were used at vantage points in the living room.

The hostesses presented the bride-elect with a sewing basket and the guests brought sewing gadgets to add to it.

Those present were: Pam Garland, Sheila Grogan, Ann

Dunnaway, Millie Lester, Susan Tessenier, Kathy Simmons, Debbie Dibble, Lanette Underwood, Rebecca Tarry, Kathy Farrell, Shere Parker, Caroline Luciano, Jo Ann Bilderback, Connie Wiseman, Cathy Mitchell, Carolyn Sexton, Mrs. Phillip Mitchell, Mrs. Rudolph Thurman, Mrs. Lester Nanny, the bride-elect and the hostesses.

Home Department Has Luncheon

The Home Department of the Murray Woman's Club closed the current club year with a special luncheon climaxed the attendance contest held throughout the year on Thursday, May 16, at the club house.

Mrs. Bun Crawford and her group were the winners in the contest and were the honored guests of the losing team with Mrs. Goldia Curd as the captain.

The tables were attractively decorated for the occasion with arrangements of spring flowers. Mrs. Nix Crawford, retiring chairman of the department, introduced Mrs. John Stamps, chairman for the next year, who asked the cooperation of the members to make it one of the most successful years.

Faxon 4-H Club Has Regular Meet

The Faxon 4-H Club met Monday, May 13, at three-thirty o'clock in the afternoon at the school.

Regina Lovett, president, opened the meeting. The allegiance to the American flag and the pledge to the 4-H Club flag were given. The roll was called by the secretary.

The group planned a hike at the Land Between the Lakes

"PATSY AWARD" candidates in the television category include these stars. The awards—the 18th annual—are scheduled for June 1 at Universal City Studios in California.

on May 18 at nine a.m. They planned to visit the museum, and many other points of interest.

Chaperones for the outing were the 4-H club leaders, according to Randy Lee, reporter.

KING RESTING

KATHMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—King Mahendra, who suffered a heart attack March 15 while tiger hunting, has been told by his doctors to get three months of complete rest, the royal palace said Friday night.

GEORGE E. OVERBEY
FOR COMMONWEALTH ATTORNEY
YOUR VOTE WILL BE APPRECIATED
42nd Judicial District
CALLOWAY-MARSHALL-LIVINGSTON COUNTIES
DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY, MAY 28, 1968
HONEST — QUALIFIED — VETERAN Paid for by Ed Overbey, Treasurer

Man in the know keeps you on the go!

You can put confidence in your Good Neighbor Ashland Oil Dealer. He cares. And he backs this up with expert knowledge on proper car care. He is thorough, accurate, conscientious, reliable—you can count on it.

Your Ashland Oil Dealer offers you superior products, too—like Valvoline Motor Oil and Ashland Vitalized Gasoline.

So drive in and see your Good Neighbor Ashland Oil Dealer. All the "little extras" in his service put "extra go" in your car!

ASHLAND OIL & REFINING COMPANY

Ashland

Furnishing "A Second Home"

Vacation Homes Are Spotlighted In An Interesting New Publication

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

THE SECOND home is becoming an American institution. In fact many families who literally don't live in a first home—they're apartment-dwellers—have a second one in the country or at the beach.

All Through Year

The second home is not just for summers at the shore or winters in ski country but, increasingly, it's a retreat, an escape. Some head for it alone while others make provisions for guest quarters and take off with an entourage.

Depending on the use to which it will be put, the second home can range from A-frame to estate.

About Vacation Homes

If a second home—modest or magnificent—figures in your plans, a new publication, "Vacation Home Living," should be of special interest to you. Edited by Dannie Carter, who can also take a bow for the popular "1,001 Decorating Ideas," the first edition of this new publication is packed with information and ideas for families who are thinking of renting or buying a vacation home away from home and for those who already have taken this big step.

Facts on Furnishings

There is, for example, an excellent section on decorating. It points out that the "second home" is no longer furnished with shoddy "second-hand," cast-offs and hand-me-downs. While it's true that still-good pieces may make the move to the country place, junk isn't welcome.

Why should it be when with ingenuity a second home can have eye appeal and comfort plus.

Tops in popularity

where furnishings are concerned are sleeping facilities—sofa-beds, chair-beds, Murphy beds and, very versatile, indeed, a new triple trundle.

Toss 'Em Out

Disposables, too, rate high. These include paper spreads, tablecloths, drapes, rugs and even a cardboard lamp.

The beauty of disposables, notes Mrs. Carter, is that they lend color, pattern and charm for a season and are inexpensive enough to toss out when they show signs of wear or when you're weary of looking at them.

VINYL VIRTUES include easy cleanability and slick finish of the bedspread, the curtains and the window shade, which is trimmed with Conso's polypropylene fringe.

Pluses and other practical materials also figure importantly when it's time to furnish because a second home should literally be care-free or at least as care-free as is possible.

Full Coverage

Available at news stands, "Vacation Home Living" covers the title subject in a number of ways. It includes sections on: what to look for in a vacation home and where to look; landscaping; pre-fabs; homes at sea; vacation communities; popular vacation areas; sun decks; patio and porch furniture.

is state supported and the government pays its artists.

The salaries vary, but naturally the best actors and actresses are going to get the most money—that's the way another feminine lead in the picture, Ludmila Savelyeva, puts it. But we are actors of our people. There is more worship of the art than there is of the stars."

graying hair and ample proportions, who directed and acted in the film. She is Irina Skobtseva, who plays one of the feminine leads in the film and who met Bondarchuk when she was playing Desdemona to his Othello.

The Bondarchuks have two children, a girl five years old, a boy just two months. "I met," said Miss Skobtseva. It was her first trip to the United States, but her husband had been here before. So he knew well the American custom; out came pictures of the children from father's wallet.

Many Frustrations

Talking with the director-writer-actor and his wife was through an interpreter and in a matter of minute one learns what frustrations diplomats must have when they're dealing in touchy state matters through English to Russian, Russian to English, or whatever.

The interpreter had a Dickens of a time getting across to Miss Skobtseva what I meant by asking if Russian cinema had its sex goddesses, the likes of the late Marilyn Monroe or Jane Mansfield.

Finally, the idea in its own way got through and she said, "Oh, in both countries we have a division... man, woman." Much laughter.

Miss Skobtseva said the Russians "humanize" their stars, no pedestal for them. No young things pattern their looks after hers—blonde, blue-eyed, and as scrubbed looking as a teenager without a trace of eye makeup.

I asked her age. "I'm 34," she said.

Miss Skobtseva said she had been born in the same part of Russia as Tolstoy and had become an actress a traditional way; she studied at the College of Moscow Art-Theater, Russia's theater and cinema, like its ballet and other performing arts.

is state supported and the government pays its artists.

The salaries vary, but naturally the best actors and actresses are going to get the most money—that's the way another feminine lead in the picture, Ludmila Savelyeva, puts it. But we are actors of our people. There is more worship of the art than there is of the stars."

graying hair and ample proportions, who directed and acted in the film. She is Irina Skobtseva, who plays one of the feminine leads in the film and who met Bondarchuk when she was playing Desdemona to his Othello.

The Bondarchuks have two children, a girl five years old, a boy just two months. "I met," said Miss Skobtseva. It was her first trip to the United States, but her husband had been here before. So he knew well the American custom; out came pictures of the children from father's wallet.

Many Frustrations

Talking with the director-writer-actor and his wife was through an interpreter and in a matter of minute one learns what frustrations diplomats must have when they're dealing in touchy state matters through English to Russian, Russian to English, or whatever.

The interpreter had a Dickens of a time getting across to Miss Skobtseva what I meant by asking if Russian cinema had its sex goddesses, the likes of the late Marilyn Monroe or Jane Mansfield.

Finally, the idea in its own way got through and she said, "Oh, in both countries we have a division... man, woman." Much laughter.

Miss Skobtseva said the Russians "humanize" their stars, no pedestal for them. No young things pattern their looks after hers—blonde, blue-eyed, and as scrubbed looking as a teenager without a trace of eye makeup.

I asked her age. "I'm 34," she said.

Miss Skobtseva said she had been born in the same part of Russia as Tolstoy and had become an actress a traditional way; she studied at the College of Moscow Art-Theater, Russia's theater and cinema, like its ballet and other performing arts.

is state supported and the government pays its artists.

The salaries vary, but naturally the best actors and actresses are going to get the most money—that's the way another feminine lead in the picture, Ludmila Savelyeva, puts it. But we are actors of our people. There is more worship of the art than there is of the stars."

graying hair and ample proportions, who directed and acted in the film. She is Irina Skobtseva, who plays one of the feminine leads in the film and who met Bondarchuk when she was playing Desdemona to his Othello.

The Bondarchuks have two children, a girl five years old, a boy just two months. "I met," said Miss Skobtseva. It was her first trip to the United States, but her husband had been here before. So he knew well the American custom; out came pictures of the children from father's wallet.

Many Frustrations

Talking with the director-writer-actor and his wife was through an interpreter and in a matter of minute one learns what frustrations diplomats must have when they're dealing in touchy state matters through English to Russian, Russian to English, or whatever.

The interpreter had a Dickens of a time getting across to Miss Skobtseva what I meant by asking if Russian cinema had its sex goddesses, the likes of the late Marilyn Monroe or Jane Mansfield.

Finally, the idea in its own way got through and she said, "Oh, in both countries we have a division... man, woman." Much laughter.

Miss Skobtseva said the Russians "humanize" their stars, no pedestal for them. No young things pattern their looks after hers—blonde, blue-eyed, and as scrubbed looking as a teenager without a trace of eye makeup.

I asked her age. "I'm 34," she said.

Miss Skobtseva said she had been born in the same part of Russia as Tolstoy and had become an actress a traditional way; she studied at the College of Moscow Art-Theater, Russia's theater and cinema, like its ballet and other performing arts.

is state supported and the government pays its artists.

The salaries vary, but naturally the best actors and actresses are going to get the most money—that's the way another feminine lead in the picture, Ludmila Savelyeva, puts it. But we are actors of our people. There is more worship of the art than there is of the stars."

graying hair and ample proportions, who directed and acted in the film. She is Irina Skobtseva, who plays one of the feminine leads in the film and who met Bondarchuk when she was playing Desdemona to his Othello.

The Bondarchuks have two children, a girl five years old, a boy just two months. "I met," said Miss Skobtseva. It was her first trip to the United States, but her husband had been here before. So he knew well the American custom; out came pictures of the children from father's wallet.

Many Frustrations

Talking with the director-writer-actor and his wife was through an interpreter and in a matter of minute one learns what frustrations diplomats must have when they're dealing in touchy state matters through English to Russian, Russian to English, or whatever.

The interpreter had a Dickens of a time getting across to Miss Skobtseva what I meant by asking if Russian cinema had its sex goddesses, the likes of the late Marilyn Monroe or Jane Mansfield.

Finally, the idea in its own way got through and she said, "Oh, in both countries we have a division... man, woman." Much laughter.

Miss Skobtseva said the Russians "humanize" their stars, no pedestal for them. No young things pattern their looks after hers—blonde, blue-eyed, and as scrubbed looking as a teenager without a trace of eye makeup.

I asked her age. "I'm 34," she said.

Miss Skobtseva said she had been born in the same part of Russia as Tolstoy and had become an actress a traditional way; she studied at the College of Moscow Art-Theater, Russia's theater and cinema, like its ballet and other performing arts.

is state supported and the government pays its artists.

The salaries vary, but naturally the best actors and actresses are going to get the most money—that's the way another feminine lead in the picture, Ludmila Savelyeva, puts it. But we are actors of our people. There is more worship of the art than there is of the stars."

graying hair and ample proportions, who directed and acted in the film. She is Irina Skobtseva, who plays one of the feminine leads in the film and who met Bondarchuk when she was playing Desdemona to his Othello.

The Bondarchuks have two children, a girl five years old, a boy just two months. "I met," said Miss Skobtseva. It was her first trip to the United States, but her husband had been here before. So he knew well the American custom; out came pictures of the children from father's wallet.

Many Frustrations

Talking with the director-writer-actor and his wife was through an interpreter and in a matter of minute one learns what frustrations diplomats must have when they're dealing in touchy state matters through English to Russian, Russian to English, or whatever.

The interpreter had a Dickens of a time getting across to Miss Skobtseva what I meant by asking if Russian cinema had its sex goddesses, the likes of the late Marilyn Monroe or Jane Mansfield.

Finally, the idea in its own way got through and she said, "Oh, in both countries we have a division... man, woman." Much laughter.

Miss Skobtseva said the Russians "humanize" their stars, no pedestal for them. No young things pattern their looks after hers—blonde, blue-eyed, and as scrubbed looking as a teenager without a trace of eye makeup.

I asked her age. "I'm 34," she said.

Miss Skobtseva said she had been born in the same part of Russia as Tolstoy and had become an actress a traditional way; she studied at the College of Moscow Art-Theater, Russia's theater and cinema, like its ballet and other performing arts.

is state supported and the government pays its artists.

The salaries vary, but naturally the best actors and actresses are going to get the most money—that's the way another feminine lead in the picture, Ludmila Savelyeva, puts it. But we are actors of our people. There is more worship of the art than there is of the stars."

graying hair and ample proportions, who directed and acted in the film. She is Irina Skobtseva, who plays one of the feminine leads in the film and who met Bondarchuk when she was playing Desdemona to his Othello.

The Bondarchuks have two children, a girl five years old, a boy just two months. "I met," said Miss Skobtseva. It was her first trip to the United States, but her husband had been here before. So he knew well the American custom; out came pictures of the children from father's wallet.

Many Frustrations

Talking with the director-writer-actor and his wife was through an interpreter and in a matter of minute one learns what frustrations diplomats must have when they're dealing in touchy state matters through English to Russian, Russian to English, or whatever.

The interpreter had a Dickens of a time getting across to Miss Skobtseva what I meant by asking if Russian cinema had its sex goddesses, the likes of the late Marilyn Monroe or Jane Mansfield.

Finally, the idea in its own way got through and she said, "Oh, in both countries we have a division... man, woman." Much laughter.

Miss Skobtseva said the Russians "humanize" their stars, no pedestal for them. No young things pattern their looks after hers—blonde, blue-eyed, and as scrubbed looking as a teenager without a trace of eye makeup.

I asked her age. "I'm 34," she said.

Miss Skobtseva said she had been born in the same part of Russia as Tolstoy and had become an actress a traditional way; she studied at the College of Moscow Art-Theater, Russia's theater and cinema, like its ballet and other performing arts.

is state supported and the government pays its artists.

The salaries vary, but naturally the best actors and actresses are going to get the most money—that's the way another feminine lead in the picture, Ludmila Savelyeva, puts it. But we are actors of our people. There is more worship of the art than there is of the stars."

graying hair and ample proportions, who directed and acted in the film. She is Irina Skobtseva, who plays one of the feminine leads in the film and who met Bondarchuk when she was playing Desdemona to his Othello.

The Bondarchuks have two children, a girl five years old, a boy just two months. "I met," said Miss Skobtseva. It was her first trip to the United States, but her husband had been here before. So he knew well the American custom; out came pictures of the children from father's wallet.

Many Frustrations

Talking with the director-writer-actor and his wife was through an interpreter and in a matter of minute one learns what frustrations diplomats must have when they're dealing in touchy state matters through English to Russian, Russian to English, or whatever.

The interpreter had a Dickens of a time getting across to Miss Skobtseva what I meant by asking if Russian cinema had its sex goddesses, the likes of the late Marilyn Monroe or Jane Mansfield.

Finally, the idea in its own way got through and she said, "Oh, in both countries we have a division... man, woman." Much laughter.

Miss Skobtseva said the Russians "humanize" their stars, no pedestal for them. No young things pattern their looks after hers—blonde, blue-eyed, and as scrubbed looking as a teenager without a trace of eye makeup.

I asked her age. "I'm 34," she said.

Miss Skobtseva said she had been born in the same part of Russia as Tolstoy and had become an actress a traditional way; she studied at the College of Moscow Art-Theater, Russia's theater and cinema, like its ballet and other performing arts.

is state supported and the government pays its artists.

The salaries vary, but naturally the best actors and actresses are going to get the most money—that's the way another feminine lead in the picture, Ludmila Savelyeva, puts it. But we are actors of our people. There is more worship of the art than there is of the stars."

graying hair and ample proportions, who directed and acted in the film. She is Irina Skobtseva, who plays one of the feminine leads in the film and who met Bondarchuk when she was playing Desdemona to his Othello.

The Bondarchuks have two children, a girl five years old, a boy just two months. "I met," said Miss Skobtseva. It was her first trip to the United States, but her husband had been here before. So he knew well the American custom; out came pictures of the children from father's wallet.

Many Frustrations

Talking with the director-writer-actor and his wife was through an interpreter and in a matter of minute one learns what frustrations diplomats must have when they're dealing in touchy state matters through English to Russian, Russian to English, or whatever.

The interpreter had a Dickens of a time getting across to Miss Skobtseva what I meant by asking if Russian cinema had its sex goddesses, the likes of the late Marilyn Monroe or Jane Mansfield.

Finally, the idea in its own way got through and she said, "Oh, in both countries we have a division... man, woman." Much laughter.

Miss Skobtseva said the Russians "humanize" their stars, no pedestal for them. No young things pattern their looks after hers—blonde, blue-eyed, and as scrubbed looking as a teenager without a trace of eye makeup.

I asked her age. "I'm 34," she said.

Miss Skobtseva said she had been born in the same part of Russia as Tolstoy and had become an actress a traditional way; she studied at the College of Moscow Art-Theater, Russia's theater and cinema, like its ballet and other performing arts.

is state supported and the government pays its artists.

RUSTIC DISPOSABLES for holiday home include draperies, spread and table cover shown here by Paperworks.

TRUNDLE BED will sleep trio of guests on polyfoam mattresses, heavy steel springs. By Children's Workbench.

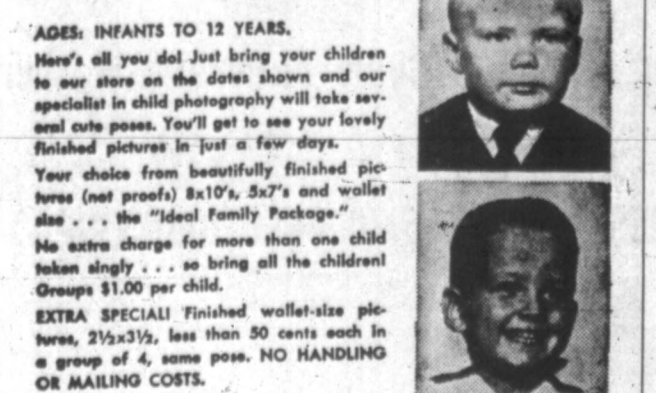

ALL NEW—This time, see your child in exciting BLACK AND WHITE plus breathtaking LIVING COLOR taken with our EXCLUSIVE Piggy Back Camera!!!

May 23, 24 & 25 9 to 5 - Friday 9 to 8

HEY...MOM! Get a beautiful 5x7 (BLACK & WHITE) picture of your baby for only 59c

AGES: INFANTS TO 12 YEARS. Here's all you do! Just bring your children to our store on the dates shown and our specialist in child photography will take several cute poses. You'll get to see your lovely finished pictures in just a few days. Your choice from beautifully finished pictures (not proofs) 5x7's, 8x10's, 5x7's and wallet size... the "Ideal Family Package." No extra charge for more than one child taken singly... so bring all the children! Groups $1.00 per child. EXTRA SPECIAL! Finished wallet-size pictures, 2 1/2 x 3 1/2, less than 50 cents each in a group of 4, same pose. NO HANDLING OR MAILING COSTS.

Exclusive with BELK and LEGGETT STORES

Movie Star In Russia Different

NEW YORK (AP) — Movie star Russian style and movie star Hollywood style are about as far apart as the politics of the the part of the world.

The Hollywood aura is of glamour-palatial homes and swimming pools, one's own hairdresser, closets full of furs and couture clothes, pink Cadillacs. It's also the star born overnight, the sex goddess idolized, the 36-26-36 statistics, the autograph seekers and the eternal accent on youth where one's age is discussed only if you're a Gladys George.

It is the world on a string—while it lasts.

In Russia, it's the world on a string too, the measuring is, another thing, Cinema in Russia is more art for art's sake than the fat figure on the contract, idolatry of the star is non-existent, the palatial home is an apartment in Moscow and use of a nearby public swimming pool, talk of age is with candor, and if an actress has children out come their pictures to be shown around.

Contrast Shows

The contrast in the two world shows in conversation with a couple of elite of the Russian cinema—a man and his wife who came to New York as part of a Soviet contingent for the premier of the dubbed English version of "War and Peace," the monumental work of Leo Tolstoy.

He is Sergei Bondarchuk, an affable man with a shock of

graying hair and ample proportions, who directed and acted in the film. She is Irina Skobtseva, who plays one of the feminine leads in the film and who met Bondarchuk when she was playing Desdemona to his Othello.

The Bondarchuks have two children, a girl five years old, a boy just two months. "I met," said Miss Skobtseva. It was her first trip to the United States, but her husband had been here before. So he knew well the American custom; out came pictures of the children from father's wallet.

Many Frustrations

Talking with the director-writer-actor and his wife was through an interpreter and in a matter of minute one learns what frustrations diplomats must have when they're dealing in touchy state matters through English to Russian, Russian to English, or whatever.

The interpreter had a Dickens of a time getting across to Miss Skobtseva what I meant by asking if Russian cinema had its sex goddesses, the likes of the late Marilyn Monroe or Jane Mansfield.

Finally, the idea in its own way got through and she said, "Oh, in both countries we have a division... man, woman." Much laughter.

Miss Skobtseva said the Russians "humanize" their stars, no pedestal for them. No young things pattern their looks after hers—blonde, blue-eyed, and as scrubbed looking as a teenager without a trace of eye makeup.

I asked her age. "I'm 34," she said.

Miss Skobtseva said she had been born in the same part of Russia as Tolstoy and had become an actress a traditional way; she studied at the College of Moscow Art-Theater, Russia's theater and cinema, like its ballet and other performing arts.

is state supported and the government pays its artists.

The salaries vary, but naturally the best actors and actresses are going to get the most money—that's the way another feminine lead in the picture, Ludmila Savelyeva, puts it. But we are actors of our people. There is more worship of the art than there is of the stars."

graying hair and ample proportions, who directed and acted in the film. She is Irina Skobtseva, who plays one of the feminine leads in the film and who met Bondarchuk when she was playing Desdemona to his Othello.

The Bondarchuks have two children, a girl five years old, a boy just two months. "I met," said Miss Skobtseva. It was her first trip to the United States, but her husband had been here before. So he knew well the American custom; out came pictures of the children from father's wallet.

Many Frustrations

Talking with the director-writer-actor and his wife was through an interpreter and in a matter of minute one learns what frustrations diplomats must have when they're dealing in touchy state matters through English to Russian, Russian to English, or whatever.

The interpreter had a Dickens of a time getting across to Miss Skobtseva what I meant by asking if Russian cinema had its sex goddesses, the likes of the late Marilyn Monroe or Jane Mansfield.

Finally, the idea in its own way got through and she said, "Oh, in both countries we have a division... man, woman." Much laughter.

Miss Skobtseva said the Russians "humanize" their stars, no pedestal for them. No young things pattern their looks after hers—blonde, blue-eyed, and as scrubbed looking as a teenager without a trace of eye makeup.

I asked her age. "I'm 34," she said.

Miss Skobtseva said she had been born in the same part of Russia as Tolstoy and had become an actress a traditional way; she studied at the College of Moscow Art-Theater, Russia's theater and cinema, like its ballet and other performing arts.

is state supported and the government pays its artists.

The salaries vary, but naturally the best actors and actresses are going to get the most money—that's the way another feminine lead in the picture, Ludmila Savelyeva, puts it. But we are actors of our people. There is more worship of the art than there is of the stars."

graying hair and ample proportions, who directed and acted in the film. She is Irina Skobtseva, who plays one of the feminine leads in the film and who met Bondarchuk when she was playing Desdemona to his Othello.

The Bondarchuks have two children, a girl five years old, a boy just two months. "I met," said Miss Skobtseva. It was her first trip to the United States, but her husband had been here before. So he knew well the American custom; out came pictures of the children from father's wallet.

Many Frustrations

Talking with the director-writer-actor and his wife was through an interpreter and in a matter of minute one learns what frustrations diplomats must have when they're dealing in touchy state matters through English to Russian, Russian to English, or whatever.

The interpreter had a Dickens of a time getting across to Miss Skobtseva what I meant by asking if Russian cinema had its sex goddesses, the likes of the late Marilyn Monroe or Jane Mansfield.

Finally, the idea in its own way got through and she said, "Oh, in both countries we have a division... man, woman." Much laughter.

Miss Skobtseva said the Russians "humanize" their stars, no pedestal for them. No young things pattern their looks after hers—blonde, blue-eyed, and as scrubbed looking as a teenager without a trace of eye makeup.

I asked her age. "I'm 34," she said.

Miss Skobtseva said she had been born in the same part of Russia as Tolstoy and had become an actress a traditional way; she studied at the College of Moscow Art-Theater, Russia's theater and cinema, like its ballet and other performing arts.

is state supported and the government pays its artists.

The salaries vary, but naturally the best actors and actresses are going to get the most money—that's the way another feminine lead in the picture, Ludmila Savelyeva, puts it. But we are actors of our people. There is more worship of the art than there is of the stars."

graying hair and ample proportions, who directed and acted in the film. She is Irina Skobtseva, who plays one of the feminine leads in the film and who met Bondarchuk when she was playing Desdemona to his Othello.

The Bondarchuks have

CHOLON REFUGEES—Carrying belongings, refugees from the battle-ravaged Cholon section of Saigon stream over a bridge in search of shelter. The Reds' attack, coinciding with the opening of peace talks in Paris, left more than 50,000 homeless.

Snow's on Roof When Fire's Out

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1968 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband is well over the age of collecting social security, but would you believe he is so vain he won't put in for it because he doesn't want to admit his right age?

He is still running after women, too. Believe me, if he ever catches any it will be perfectly harmless. I should know.

I have been touching up his hair for years, otherwise it would be snow-white. Lately I have been telling him it is time he let his hair go "natural," for it is no crime for a man his age to have white hair, but he says, no, he still wants me to touch it up for him. If you were me, would you? ELSA

DEAR ELSA: No. Tell him as long as there is no fire in the furnace, he may as well leave the snow on the roof.

DEAR ABBY: I will give you the facts, which are all true, as I am the girl's mother.

Millie and Don (made up names) were married 2 weeks after Don graduated from high school. They had to get married as Millie was 5 months along.

After the baby came, I baby-sat for Millie so she could go back to school and get her diploma.

The baby is a year old now and Don says he wants a divorce. He says he doesn't love Millie anymore and he wants to be "free." He says he doesn't want the responsibilities of marriage and fatherhood. He won't go to our priest, and he won't see a marriage counselor. He says all he wants is out. He went to a lawyer who says it will be difficult but not impossible for Don to get a divorce without Millie's cooperation because he has no grounds. (Millie has all kinds of grounds, but she doesn't want to file.)

Millie says she loves him and is willing to do anything to save her marriage. Can you help? MILLIE'S MOM

DEAR MOM: No one can "help" save a marriage unless both parties want to save it. Millie can make it tough for Don to get a divorce, but can't force him to live with her. Assuming she could "save" the marriage, a young husband who feels trapped would make a poor husband and a worse father.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to the question recently asked of you, "Is the pill 100 per cent safe?"—may I reply?

Thinking this was the only safe way to avoid having a baby at my age (42), I asked my doctor for the pill. I used it for nearly 2 years, then . . . bang! I found I was pregnant. I had not forgotten to take my pill at any time, so at first I thought surely it was the menopause. (So did my doctor.) It turned out to be a beautiful baby boy instead.

Abby, I had two grandchildren, so naturally I was about as "overjoyed" at the prospects of having another baby as most women in their mid-forties would have been. But what seemed at first to be the end of the world turned out to be the most wonderful thing that ever has happened to me.

I hope that other women who find themselves in the same situation will read this and realize it is not a catastrophe—but God's will. Only He could have known the joy this unexpected child was to give us. And now we know, too.

BLESSED IN ZANESVILLE

DEAR ABBY: I have a "confidential" for my husband's secretary who is also doubling as "the other woman" in his life: I have offered my husband his freedom so he could marry her, but he said he doesn't want it. Another thing, we have been married for 29 years—not 21. He also lied about his age.

HIS WIFE

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HATE TO WRITE LETTERS? SEND $1 TO ABBY, BOX 69700, LOS ANGELES, CAL., 90069, FOR ABBY'S BOOKLET, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

HEART TRANSPLANT patient Everett C. Thomas, 47, sits up in bed to read in Houston, Tex. His condition is reported "excellent," and his expression bears out the report.

SOCIAL SECURITY Questions and Answers

Less work is now needed for social security payments to a disabled worker whose disability started before age 31, according to Charles M. Whitaker, Paducah Social Security District Manager.

Since 1965, there has been a special work requirement applicable only to those disabled by blindness occurring before age 31. All other disabled workers were required to be fully insured and to have earned 5 years of social security credits (20 quarters) in the 10 year period prior to the onset date of the disability.

Under the 1967 Amendments the special rule for those blinded before age 31 applies to all workers disabled since before age 31 regardless of the nature of the illness or injury causing their inability to work.

Under this special rule, a worker may need as few as 6 or as many as 18 quarters of coverage, Whitaker pointed out.

Now a worker disabled since before age 31 (regardless of the cause for his disability) will be insured for disability benefits if:

(1) He has quarters of coverage in at least half of the calendar quarters elapsing after he became 21 and up through the quarter of disablement, or

(2) If disabled before age 24, he has at least 6 quarters of coverage in the 12 calendar quarter period ending with the quarter he became disabled.

Workers whose disability began after age 30 are still required to be fully insured and to have 5 years of work credits (quarters of coverage) in the 10 year period immediately preceding the disability date.

Young workers, like older ones, must be under a disability that prevents any substantial gainful work. Further, the disability must last for no less than 6 full calendar months and be expected to continue for at least 6 more months.

Payments may be made for the 7th month after the month the disability began. However, those who qualify only because of the 1967 changes cannot receive a payment for months before February, 1968, and the application (or re-application of those whose claim was previously disallowed) must be filed in 1968 or later.

In addition to young workers currently becoming disabled or who do so in the future, one who became disabled years ago could also benefit from the change if his disability began before age 31 and he has continued to be disabled until now. Where there is a possibility a disabled worker is eligible for payments under this change, Whitaker urged the disabled worker or a relative to contact the Social Security District Office at 112 South Tenth Street, Paducah.

The Paducah office is open Monday through Friday, (except national holidays) from 8:45 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and until 7:00 p.m. on Thursdays.

The first U.S. book to sell a million copies was John Fox's "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," whose setting was in the small eastern Kentucky mountain settlement of Kingdom Come.

ORMS SIGNS
ST. LOUIS 1968 — Barry Orms of St. Louis University, drafted by Baltimore of the National Basketball Association, signed Thursday with Dallas of the National Football League. Orms, 6-foot-3, 194 pounds, never played football in college. He will try out as a defensive back with the Cowboys.

WE DARE YOU TO COMPARE.

NEW STORE #2 IN HAZEL, KY.

PHONE 492-8199

DICK and DUNN

HAZEL, KENTUCKY      MURRAY, KENTUCKY

featuring the

Exclusive IceMagic® AUTOMATIC ICE MAKER

Replaces every ice crescent you use . . . automatically! No trays to fill, spill or empty. The Whirlpool ice maker has been tried and proved in use in over 1,000,000 homes.

Model ERT120M

Whirlpool

All these other conveniences, too!

- Big 108-lb. "zero-degree" freezer
- Roomy full-width crisper
- Super-storage door with built-in butter and egg storage
- Automatic defrosting refrigerator section
- MILLION-MAGNET® doors "lock" in cold

$189

PLUS $18.90 FREE GROCERIES

UP TO $25

FREE GROCERIES WITH PURCHASE OF ANY WHIRLPOOL APPLIANCE.

OFFER EXPIRES JUNE 1.

This offer good at both stores

You may take 10% of your purchase price in free groceries, up to $25.00. Hurry! Offer expires June 1.

18,000 BTU Air Conditioner

$269

$25.00 FREE GROCERIES

G.E.
Steam & Dry Iron
$7.54

17.8 Cu.Ft. Freezer

$199

$19.90 FREE GROCERIES

3 Cycle Automatic Washer

$158

$15.80 FREE GROCERIES

WIN A FREE PORTABLE TV...
JUST REGISTER!

Drop this coupon in box at either Dick & Dunn store today!

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____
Drawing June 1. You don't have to be present to win.

CHOLON REFUGEES—Carrying belongings, refugees from the battle-ravaged Cholon section of Saigon stream over a bridge in search of shelter. The Reds' attack, coinciding with the opening of peace talks in Paris, left more than 50,000 homeless.

Snow's on Roof When Fire's Out

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1968 by Chicago Tribune-M. V. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband is well over the age of collecting social security, but would you believe he is so vain he won't put it on because he doesn't want to admit his right age?

He is still running after women, too. Believe me, if he ever catches any it will be perfectly harmless. I should know.

I have been touching up his hair for years, otherwise it would be snow-white. Lately I have been telling him it is time he let his hair go "natural," for it is no crime for a man his age to have white hair, but he says, no, he still wants me to touch it up for him. If you were me, would you? — ELSA

DEAR ELSA: No. Tell him as long as there is no fire in the furnace, he may as well leave the snow on the roof.

DEAR ABBY: I will give you the facts, which are all true, as I am the girl's mother.

Millie and Don (made up names) were married 2 weeks after Don graduated from high school. They had to get married as Millie was 5 months along.

After the baby came I baby-sat for Millie so she could go back to school and get her diploma.

The baby is a year old now and Don says he wants a divorce. He says he doesn't love Millie anymore and he wants to be "free." He says he doesn't want the responsibilities of marriage and fatherhood. He won't go to our priest, and he won't see a marriage counselor. He says all he wants is out. He went to a lawyer who says it will be difficult but not impossible for Don to get a divorce without Millie's cooperation because he has no grounds. (Millie has all kinds of grounds, but she doesn't want to file.)

Millie says she loves him and is willing to do anything to save her marriage. Can you help? — MILLIE'S MOM

DEAR MOM: No one can "help" save a marriage unless both parties want to save it. Millie can make it tough for Don to get a divorce, but can't force him to live with her. Assuming she could "save" the marriage, a young husband who feels trapped would make a poor husband and a worse father.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to the question recently asked of you, "Is the pill 100 per cent safe?"—may I reply?

Thinking this was the only safe way to avoid having a baby at my age (42), I asked my doctor for the pill. I used it for nearly 2 years, then . . . bang! I found I was pregnant. I had not forgotten to take my pill at any time, so at first I thought surely it was the menopause. (So did my doctor.) It turned out to be a beautiful baby boy instead.

Abby, I had two grandchildren, so naturally I was about as "overjoyed" at the prospects of having another baby as most women in their mid-forties would have been. But what seemed at first to be the end of the world turned out to be the most wonderful thing that ever has happened to me.

I hope that other women who find themselves in the same situation will read this and realize it is not a catastrophe—but God's will. Only He could have known the joy this unexpected child was to give us. And now we know, too.

BLESSED IN ZANESVILLE

DEAR ABBY: I have a "confidential" for my husband's secretary who is also doubling as "the other woman" in his life: I have offered my husband his freedom so he could marry her, but he said he doesn't want it. Another thing, we have been married for 29 years—not 21. He also lied about his age.

HIS WIFE

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HATE TO WRITE LETTERS? SEND $1 TO ABBY, BOX 69706, LOS ANGELES, CAL., 90069, FOR ABBY'S BOOKLET, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

HEART TRANSPLANT patient Everett C. Thomas, 47, sits up in bed to read in Houston, Tex. His condition is reported excellent, and his expression bears out the report.

SOCIAL SECURITY Questions and Answers

Less work is now needed for social security payments to a disabled worker whose disability started before age 31, according to Charles M. Whitaker, Paducah Social Security District Manager.

Since 1963, there has been a special work requirement applicable only to those disabled by blindness occurring before age 31. All other disabled workers were required to be fully insured and to have earned 5 years of social security credits (20 quarters) in the 10 year period prior to the onset date of the disability.

Under the 1967 Amendments the special rule for those blind before age 31 applies to all workers disabled since before age 31 regardless of the nature of the illness or injury causing their inability to work.

Under this special rule, a worker may need as few as 6 or as many as 19 quarters of coverage, Whitaker pointed out.

Now a worker disabled since before age 31 (regardless of the cause for his disability) will be insured for disability benefits if:

(1) He has quarters of coverage in at least half of the calendar quarters elapsing after he became 21 and up through the quarter of disability onset, or

(2) If disabled before age 24, he has at least 6 quarters of coverage in the 12 calendar quarter period ending with the quarter he became disabled.

Workers whose disability began after age 30 are still required to be fully insured and to have 5 years of work credits (quarters of coverage) in the 10 year period immediately preceding the disability date.

Young workers, like older

ones, must be under a disability that prevents any substantial gainful work. Further, the disability must last for no less than 6 full calendar months and be expected to continue for at least 6 more months.

Payments may be made for the 7th month after the month the disability began. However, those who qualify only because of the 1967 changes cannot receive a payment for months before February, 1968, and the application (or re-application of those whose claim was previously disallowed) must be filed in 1968 or later.

In addition to young workers currently becoming disabled or who do so in the future, one who became disabled years ago could also benefit from the change if his disability began before age 31 and he has continued to be disabled until now.

Where there is a possibility a disabled worker is eligible for payments under this change, Whitaker urged the disabled worker or a relative to contact the Social Security District Office at 112 South Tenth Street, Paducah.

The Paducah office is open Monday through Friday, (except national holidays) from 8:45 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and until 7:00 p.m. on Thursdays.

The first U.S. book to sell a million copies was John Fox's "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," whose setting was in the small eastern Kentucky mountain settlement of Kingdom Come.

ORMS SIGNS

ST. LOUIS — Barry Orms of St. Louis University, drafted by Baltimore of the National Basketball Association, signed Thursday with Dallas of the National Football League.

Orms, 6-foot-3, 194 pounds, never played football in college. He will try out as a defensive back with the Cowboys.

WE DARE YOU TO COMPARE

NEW STORE #2 IN HAZEL, KY.

PHONE 492-8199

DICK and DUNN

HAZEL, KENTUCKY MURRAY, KENTUCKY

featuring the

Exclusive IceMagic®
AUTOMATIC ICE MAKER

Replaces every ice crescent you use automatically! No trays to fill, spill or empty. The Whirlpool ice maker has been tried and proved in use in over 1,000,000 homes.

Model ERT12DM

Whirlpool

All these other conveniences, too!

- Big 108-lb. "zero-degree" freezer
- Roomy full-width crisper
- Super-storage door with built-in butter and egg storage
- Automatic defrosting refrigerator section
- MILLION-MAGNET® doors "lock" in cold

$189

PLUS $18.90 FREE GROCERIES

UP TO
$25

FREE GROCERIES WITH PURCHASE OF ANY WHIRLPOOL APPLIANCE.

OFFER EXPIRES JUNE 1.

This offer good at both stores

You may take 10% of your purchase price in free groceries, up to $25.00. Hurry! Offer expires June 1.

18,000 BTU Air Conditioner

$269

$25.00 FREE GROCERIES

G.E.
Steam & Dry Iron
$754

Big 624-lb. capacity

17.8 Cu.Ft. Freezer

$199

$19.90 FREE GROCERIES

3 Cycle Automatic Washer

$158

$15.80 FREE GROCERIES

WIN A FREE PORTABLE TV...
JUST REGISTER!

Drop this coupon in box at either Dick & Dunn store today!

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____

Drawing June 1. You don't have to be present to win.

Buy, Sell, Trade Hire, Rent, Find THROUGH THE

WANT ADS

FOR SALE

8' x 35' AMERICAN trailer, air conditioner. Phone 753-7353. May-30-P

NEW 3-point 5 ft Cutter with heavy gear box, stump jumper, 30" tail wheel, $325.00. Also new 5' pull-type models. Used pick-up and pull-type models. Vinson Tractor Co. Phone 753-4892. June-8-C

NEW AND USED tires. Tractor flats repaired. Speedy service. Vinson Tractor Co., Phone 753-4892. June-8-C

STRAWBERRIES: pick your own for 20¢ a quart. Bring your own containers, 2 miles south of Sedalia on Highway 381. Phone 328-8543, Jessie Jones. TFC

8 FT PICNIC table, 4 oak chairs already refinished in natural color. Call 753-4978. M-21-C

7500 BTU Air Conditioner. Call 753-6542. M-21-C

10' x 55' MOBILE HOME. Three bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, carpet in living room. Hales Trailer Court, Lot 22. Phone 753-6842. M-21-C

RCA VICTOR home entertainment center! Color T. V., solid state stereo, AM-FM stereo radio, all in beautiful colonial maple cabinet. The 1967 new Vista series. Like new condition! Excellent buy! Call 436-2372. M-27-P

MATCHED DOUBLE dresser with mirror, study desk with chair, and large book case. All colonial design in solid oak. Also room divider, couch, easy chair with stool, pole lamps, and area rugs. Will sell together or separate. Call 436-2372. M-27-P

COPPERTONE electric range and Frigidaire refrigerator. Like new. Phone 753-7923. M-23-C

1966 WINSTON mobile home, 12' x 51', two-bedroom, extra nice. Phone 753-8447. M-23-C

TWO-HORSE horse trailer, red and white. Like new $500.00. Phone 753-5380 or can be seen at 521 So. 13th St. M-23-C

NEW POOL TABLE, standard size, $700.00. Includes cue sticks and balls. Phone 753-5380, or can be seen at 521 So. 13th St. M-23-C

4 EXTRA GOOD WS Royal tires, 750 x 14 $24.00. Call 753-8947 after 5:00 p. m. ITC

SOFA BED $20. 9 x 12 rug $3.00. Vacuum $4.00. Electric stove $20.00. Phone 753-7617. M-27-C

LARGE LAKE FRONT lot in Lake Way Shores. Will sacrifice for $1,250 or trade for speed boat and motor. Call 753-8275. M-23-C

BY OWNER: Beautiful 9 month old 3-bedroom modern one-floor home on Panorama Shores Lake front lot. Good shoreline. Fully insulated, brick and aluminum exterior, carpet and Armstrong vinyl floors. Large kitchen, with breakfast area. Antique Birch cabinets, Avocado G. E. refrigerator, range and dish washer. Utility room adjacent to kitchen, 26' x 15' living and dining room with natural fireplace and built in book shelves. 2 full ceramic baths. Large closet and storage areas. Screened porch. Central electric forced air heat and air-conditioning. Many extras. Reasonable. Phone 436-2237. M-27-P

WE HAVE several cottages and lake lots. SEE Roberts Realty for all your Real Estate needs. ROBERTS REALTY, 505 West Main Street, Telephone 753-1651. M-21-C

WEE BRICK house on large wooded lot, close to the University. It has 3 bedrooms, dishwasher, garbage disposal, stove, 2 fireplaces, carpet, drapes, air-conditioned, basement, also attached furnished apartment. Will consider trading for smaller house. Call 753-2668. M-24-C

1963 CHEVY II Station Wagon, automatic transmission, and radio. Phone 753-8229. M-22-P

USED WHEEL CHAIR, portable. In good condition. Phone 753-2559. M-23-C

1967 CHEVROLET, 4-door, 3 speed, good transmission, good motor, good body, good interior, $1100.00. Call 492-8359. M-23-C

ARE YOU interested in a home in a $25,000 price range with central heat, air-conditioning, dish washer, range, disposal and carpet. Then we have 4 to choose from, 2 with fireplaces. OR IF it's a cheaper 3-bedroom brick with central heat, air conditioning, carpet, range and disposal that you're interested in, we have 2 new ones to choose from for $20,500, one with fireplace. WE HAVE some extra nice building lots, city sewer and water, underground wiring and paved streets, $2,700 and up. WE ALSO have some nice large lots in Jackson Acres Subdivision, on the new Concord Road. Some have nice shade. From $1,800 up. M-23-C

1967 MONARCH trailer, 12' x 58', furnished. Walnut interior, all electric, carpeted throughout. Shady Oaks Trailer Park, Lot 26. Phone 753-6885 after 5:00 p. m. M-23-C

BY OWNER, nice two-bedroom brick with air-conditioning. 7th St. Call 753-6885 after 5:00 p. m. M-23-C

COMPLETELY equipped moving van. Phone 753-7271. M-31-NC

ELECTROLUX SALES & Service, Box 213, Murray, Ky. C. M. Sanders. Phone 382-3176, Lynsville, Ky. H-May-24-C

CITY OF MURRAY business and vehicle licenses are due. A 10% penalty will be added to all delinquent licenses June 1st. M-25-C

VISIT THE ANTIQUE House, 303 East Main St. See the new gift department. We buy sell and trade antiques. Come in and skill time with us. Open Friday nights until 8 o'clock. J-4-C

SPECIAL SPECIAL SPECIAL SHALIMAR $3.50 Holland Drug. M-21-C

WE WILL HAVE 2 trailers for rent. M-23-C

CARPET colors looking dim? Bring 'em back—give 'em vim. Use Blue Lustre! Rent electric shampooer $1. Big K. M-25-C

VANITY AND CHEST of drawers for girls room. Call 753-8078. M-23-C

3 REGISTERED Pointer bird dog puppies 4 months old. One male, two female. Loyd Cunningham, 489-3385. M-23-C

FOR COUPLES only June 1st. Can be seen after 4:00 any afternoon at Dill's Trailer Court. Call 753-2930. T-F-C

PINE BLUFF SHORES listings needed now! 5 sold this week. end. Kentucky & Barkley Lake Realty, Evelyn V. Smith, New Concord, Phone 436-5641. M-23-P

2-BEDROOM furnished apartments, carpeted with den and kitchen combination, for rent for married couple or girls. 100 South 13th. Call 753-3914, Kelly's Pest Control. M-21-C

APARTMENT, and four private sleeping rooms for boys, with kitchen facilities. Call 753-6546. M-21-C

2-BEDROOM furnished apartments, carpeted with den and kitchen combination, for rent for married couple or girls. 100 South 13th. Call 753-3914, Kelly's Pest Control. M-21-C

ROOM FOR BOYS. Air-conditioned, private bath and shower, private entrance and kitchen. Phone 753-8260. M-23-C

2 FURNISHED apartments available June 1st. Adults only, no pets. 1008 College Farm Rd. M-23-C

FURNISHED apartment for college boys for summer term. See at 1306 Main. Call 753-6349. M-23-C

ROOMS FOR boys. One block from campus. Summer rates. Will take fall applications. Private entrance. Phone 753-5766 or 753-2555. June-24-C

for couples only June 1st. Can be seen after 4:00 any afternoon at Dill's Trailer Court. Call 753-2930. T-F-C

PINE BLUFF SHORES listings needed now! 5 sold this week. end. Kentucky & Barkley Lake Realty, Evelyn V. Smith, New Concord, Phone 436-5641. M-23-P

2-BEDROOM furnished apartments, carpeted with den and kitchen combination, for rent for married couple or girls. 100 South 13th. Call 753-3914, Kelly's Pest Control. M-21-C

APARTMENT, and four private sleeping rooms for boys, with kitchen facilities. Call 753-6546. M-21-C

2-BEDROOM furnished apartments, carpeted with den and kitchen combination, for rent for married couple or girls. 100 South 13th. Call 753-3914, Kelly's Pest Control. M-21-C

ROOM FOR BOYS. Air-conditioned, private bath and shower, private entrance and kitchen. Phone 753-8260. M-23-C

2 FURNISHED apartments available June 1st. Adults only, no pets. 1008 College Farm Rd. M-23-C

FURNISHED apartment for college boys for summer term. See at 1306 Main. Call 753-6349. M-23-C

ROOMS FOR boys. One block from campus. Summer rates. Will take fall applications. Private entrance. Phone 753-5766 or 753-2555. June-24-C

for couples only June 1st. Can be seen after 4:00 any afternoon at Dill's Trailer Court. Call 753-2930. T-F-C

for couples only June 1st. Can be seen after 4:00 any afternoon at Dill's Trailer Court. Call 753-2930. T-F-C

for couples only June 1st. Can be seen after 4:00 any afternoon at Dill's Trailer Court. Call 753-2930. T-F-C

SERVICES OFFERED

MAINTENANCE Unlimited Janitor Service, Commercial, Industrial, Residential, 492-8485. M-23-C

FEMALE COLLEGE student wants summer employment. Banking and secretarial experience. Phone 753-5584 after 3:00 p. m. M-23-P

HELP WANTED

SALES LADY in local department store. Please write giving experience and references to P. O. Box 408, Murray, Ky. M-23-C

LOST & FOUND

LOST 2 solid black pigs weighing about 40 lbs a piece. Strayed from the home of John Pittman, Box 99, Hazel. If seen, call 492-8788 or the Hazel Lumber Co. M-23-C

LOST: Remington automatic rifle, 22, east of Almo on Sunday, May 19. Reward. Call 753-8319. M-27-C

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mrs. Laura B. Martin wish to thank their many friends for all the expressions of sympathy shown during the illness and passing of our loved one, through cards, telegrams, flowers and food. A special thanks to Brother Floyd Dethrow and Rev. Ira Phillips. May God bless all of you. The Family ITC SWOOSH! AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—The fastest speeds ever recorded by a pneumatic tire were achieved in 1965 when The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company tested hand speed record racing tires at more than 850 mph on a special dynamometer. Similar tires were used by Craig Breedlove when his jet racer established the record of 696.91 mph on the Utah salt flats in November, 1965.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.

(UPI)—Burns account for a large share of the 4,400,000 home accidents that occur annually, and the kitchen is the prime danger spot or injuries from hot grease or oil.

Such burns demand prompt and proper attention: wash the affected area in cold water, apply a burn ointment for antiseptic cream and cover with sterile non-stick pads, say first aid experts at Johnson and Johnson.

Abraham Lincoln lived in Knob Creek during his early childhood.

Real Puris

BRISTOL, England (UPI)—A relay team of Bristol University students claims they have beaten a world record by knitting a scarf 300 feet long in 50 hours.

POetic

FT. RUCKER, Ala. (UPI)—An enlisted man at the Army Aviation School here, where helicopter pilots are trained is Sgt. Edgar Allen Poe.

With all the "whirlybirds" around, he's often asked about his "Raven." Poe is no relation to the poet.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle

ACROSS

1-Be ill
4-A month
9-Things, in law
12-Bishopric
13-Rest
14-Reverence
15-Decorous
17-Title of respect
19-Cripled
21-Street (abbr.)
22-Supplicate
23-Exist
27-Land measure
31-Cover
32-Movement
34-Symbol for silver
36-Beverage
38-Insect
37-Guido's low note 38-Sagittaries by 41-Mature
42-Great Lake
43-Hindu cymbals
44-Dance of maples
45-Football position (abbr.)
47-Pot
49-Part of door frame
53-Burles
57-High card 58-Fewest
60-Decay
61-Camp
62-Woodworker's tool
63-Beam

DOWN

1-Snake
2-Comparative ending
3-Social media
4-Appellation of Athena

5-Lasting
6-Son god
7-Doctrine
8-Hawaiian warlike
9-Rodent
10-Female sheep
11-Weight of India
16-Work at one's trade
18-Commonwealth
20-Silkworm
22-Sat
23-Hardship
24-Paid notice
26-Decorate
28-101 (Roman number)
29-Comet
30-Go in 32-Mohammedan name
33-Roman bronze 35-Avoid
39-Symbol for nickel
40-Headgear
41-Alternating current (abbr.)
42-Meadow
44-Enamel
46-Narrate
48-Poker stake
49-Ordinance
50-Frozen water
51-Openwork fabric
52-Meadow
54-Bee mistaken
55-Brown kivi
56-Pippen
59-Near

High Excitement All the Way AS GOOD AS GOLD

By Edward Wymark

From the Coward-McCann, Inc. novel, © Copyright, 1967, Edward Wymark. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED

John Verreker, international airline pilot with jet set friends, found his life and career threatened by an international crime ring that corrupted pilots to smuggle gold, diamonds and narcotics. His fellow pilot, Anthony Mostyn, had been arrested for smuggling gold into India. When Verreker became involved romantically with Camilla Vandervell, she was reluctant for Verreker to meet her art dealer brother, Nicholas. But when Verreker was carrying a Hong Kong Kong to a friend of Nicholas's in London, when he discovered they contained dope and informed Hong Kong police. They told him to carry them. Yard apprehended Crane when they put a tail on Verreker. Apprehension of Camilla's connection with the crime ring. Verreker awaited her return from Paris to London.

CHAPTER 31

WHEN Klein, the man the United States Narcotics Bureau had at Interpol, had gone I swallowed two codine and went to bed. Before I slept, I recalled the moments when Adeane had stared at me across the desk, and I wondered whether he guessed the truth behind it all.

When I woke up the next morning I decided I would begin by telephoning Anthony Mostyn. It was time we had a talk. After all, he was somehow involved with Crane too.

There had been a grin on his face as he had paused with one leg over the window three days ago in Beirut. I wondered if he felt so flippant now. I looked at Crane's photograph. The police might fit that into their chain of evidence. They must have discovered it, and no doubt would identify the subject as Olga Mostyn, although she had been almost unrecognizable, her features diagonally ripped into a South American Indian ritual mask by Crane's allegedly rusty razor.

Mostyn took a great deal of time to answer and I was about to hang up when his voice finally broke the monotony of the ringing tone.

"This is John Verreker. Come round for a drink about eleven o'clock. I want to talk to you."

"I'm not sure I can come..."

"I know why," I said. "I know about Olga."

"How do you know?" he asked and I could hear the change in his voice two miles away in Baygewater.

"I'll tell you when you get here," I said. "Besides I've got your bloody money. I'm sure you haven't forgotten that."

I put back the receiver and sat looking down at the diary beside me in which I had written Mostyn's phone number, the last day I had spent with Camilla Vandervell in London. At the time I wondered about it but now I knew. She had been sorry for Mostyn's wife because she had identified Olga with himself. She had seen her own problems in Olga. She had wanted to help Olga that afternoon because she knew what it was like to be helpless. At least if she hadn't then, she would soon. I looked at my watch. The time was ten thirty.

Camilla would still be here by lunch.

There wouldn't be a watch on the ports for her because Adeane believed that she was in Paris. I had told him so only last night. Either way Adeane certainly wouldn't have a guard on the ports. There was no need. She wasn't going to be arrested. He had faithfully promised me that.

Reflecting on this, I sat down and waited for Mostyn. I wondered if Olga was still in the hospital.

The door bell rang. Before he even spoke I noticed that Mostyn's jaunty manner had gone. He refused a drink. "How do you know about Olga, John?"

Why did you really go and see her that night? Exhaustion was in his voice.

I told him my story from start to finish, from the moment Langley had told me the news that dull afternoon in Singapore to the time a few hours before when Klein had left the flat.

"So Crane kept a photograph of her?"

"Yes," I replied quietly. "What are you going to do about her now Anthony?"

"She's gone," he said tensely. "She's gone when I got home. One of those welfare chaps was there when I got back with a letter for me."

"Where's she gone?"

"Back to Germany. Left the kids with their schoolmistress and cleared out. Couldn't bear to see me."

Almost choking and ludicrously twiddling his thumbs he said, "She couldn't have had much of a face either. Forty-two stitches."

He hesitated and went on again. "She said in the note she was going to her parents in Cologne. I met her there you know. That was when I was in Second T.A.P."

"Nodded." "She'll be O.K. Plastic surgery will see her all right, but why did she do it?"

"She told me in the note. She got scared and panicked and went to see you. She took your advice and consulted the lawyer. Then one of Crane's men dropped in on her and asked to see my bank account sheets. He promised that if she showed them to him and didn't tell the press or the police Chang's organization would arrange for my acquittal in India. You met him on the stairs that evening. He said it was in their interest to reduce the publicity of my case to a minimum in order to prevent triggering off more police activity. He offered her a hundred pounds as an added incentive. At first she refused to show the bank sheets to him in case he was really a policeman, remembering your advice that the sheets might get me into more trouble.

"Anyway, eventually she gave in. When you arrived she was scared as hell of course. She was terrified of getting into a worse situation and frightened of what you might tell her to do, if you discovered the significance of the man on the stairs. So she got rid of you, but the following day she panicked and went off to Notting Hill Police Station. They said to dial 999 if he called again and promised to keep a constable on to keep a close eye on the flat."

"He did a grand job," I sneered.

"Crane must have had her watched too. They picked her up in the Baygewater Road and took her out to St. John's Wood."

"They told her I must have another account besides the two that she had shown them. She said I hadn't and... and then they attacked her. They dumped her outside Erompton Hospital. If they hadn't done that she might have lost too much blood. It's too awful." He began to swear. "I haven't even been able to get to Germany yet because I've no passport."

"Did you have another bank account?" I was still curious.

He nodded. "In Geneva."

"What was the Reading one for?"

"That was just credit from Chang for carrying the gold," he said, "not for selling it."

"For selling it?" I said astonished, then I remembered Crane's remark of the previous evening.

"I handed it over to a chap in Singapore. I came across him one day in Raffles and he paid me to give the gold to him. He returned it to me with a quantity of alloy mixed into each bar. It worked fine three times. When the Indians eventually discovered the gold was debased they thought it was the Chinese who were swindling them not me as the last. I made enough to clear out for good; to give up E.T.A. too. We could have all gone to Canada; Olga and I and the kids. There's good money in crop-spraying there you know. They're always short of pilots. Pinching the last lot and selling to Rahman would have given me the starting capital."

(To Be Continued Tomorrow)

From the Coward-McCann, Inc. novel, © Copyright, 1967, Edward Wymark. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

Peanuts®

by Charles M. Schulz

Nancy

by Ernie Bushmiller

Abbie 'N Slat

by R. Van Buren

Lil' Abner

by Al Capp

GAYLE ROGERS ...

(Continued From Page 1)

sonary to Malaysia, presenting her this honor.

Miss Rogers had as her part on the program giving the highlights in the life of Mrs. Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garvice Douglass of Lone Oak, natives of Calloway County.

Mrs. Thomas, her husband, Rev. Bill Clark Thomas, and their three children will leave in three weeks for Taiwan after spending the past year on furlough. They had served in Malaysia for four years prior to their leave here.

The foreign missionary was dressed in appropriate costume of the country where she serves.

Receiving the next highest step, Queen Regent, were Gail Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lyons, Jr., and Cindy Wagar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wagar.

Queens with scepter were Becky Hogancamp, Debbie Lee, Paula Parker, Rebecca Wagar, and Earlene Warford.

Junior queens in service were Hazel Carson, Paula Lyons, Kathy Rogers, Martha Wisehart, and Joyce Woodson.

Queens were Gloria Cook, Nancy Herndon, Nancy Mathis, Patsy Mathis, Gayle Miller, Sharon Moore, Karen Russell, Karen Scott, and Pam Tucker.

Ladies-in-waiting were Patsy Burken, Carol Horn, and Jane Wagar.

Maidens were Beverly Barnett, Gene Price, Beth Richardson, Michelle Richardson, Joni Spencer, and Sue Windrum.

Mrs. Earl Warford, GA director, presented the girls and Miss Mary Dell Warford was the organist. Miss Betty Jo Ward was the bugler. A duet was sung by Misses Nancy Bratcher and Linda Shirk.

Following the program the woman's Missionary Society were hosts for a tea held in the basement of the church where the work of the church was on display.

A NIGHT ...

(Continued From Page 1)

1 a.m. They are the Jack Stalcup orchestra and the Discote.

General chairman of this year's ball is Mrs. Don Hunter who has served as the finance chairman of the Murray Woman's Club this past year.

Ticket sales are now in progress. No tickets will be sold after June 1 or at the door. Those interested in tickets are requested to call Mrs. John Neal Purdon, Mrs. John A. Gregory or Mrs. Buddy Valentine.

Table reservations must be made in order to attend the ball. Arrangements for seating must be made by June 3 by calling Mrs. Don Overbey or Mrs. Hunt Smock.

A Junior Committee composed of students which are high school or college age will help seat the patrons. Mrs. Harold Hurt and Mrs. Wells Purdon, Jr., are in charge of this group.

The Murray Mental Health Clinic, the call beneficiary, has been growing steadily since acquiring permanent quarters in the convalescent division of Murray General Hospital in 1963.

The clinic maintains a suite of rooms including offices for the psychiatrist, psychologist, social worker, and marriage counselor; two reception rooms; and a room for testing children.

Because of limited seating, only 250 tickets will be sold. Tickets are tax deductible with checks made payable to the Murray-Calloway County Mental Health Association.

Hospital Report

Census - Adults ..... 93
Census - Nursery ..... 9

Admissions, May 19, 1968
Mrs. Mary Hosford, 1621 Olive, Murray; Mrs. Diane Ginn, Route 5, Murray; Mrs. Mary Brittain, Route 5, Murray; Mrs. Elva Slaughter and baby girl, Route 5, Benton; Miss Donna Williams, 206 North Cherry, Murray; Miss Diane Beale, Almo; Tommy Workman, 603 E. 11 Drive, Murray; Mrs. Anna L. Workman, 603 Ellis Drive, Murray; Mrs. Simone Taylor, New Concord; Karen Crocker, 104 Marywood, Benton; Mrs. Myrtle Ray, Puryear, Tenn.; Thomas Aldridge, Route 1, Ed-dyville.

Dismissals
Mrs. Cora McClain, South 16th Street, Murray; Judson Slamps, Route 3, Murray; Thomas L. Lee, P.O. Box, Dexter; Mrs. Editha Kohr, Route 5, Box 1970-4, Murray; Miss Jill Humphreys, Route 4, Murray; Miss Ann Willis, Route 1, Murray; Mrs. Patricia Scott, Route 5, Box 267, Murray; Leland M. Farley, 316 Woodlawn, Murray; Master Mickey McKeel, 205 So. 18th Street, Murray; Mrs. Patsy Woodall, 409 North 5th Street, Murray; Baby boy Barati, 10 Orchard Heights, Murray.

HARD FOUGHT ...

(Continued From Page 1)

both the Republican and Democratic slates.

In addition to Williams, the candidates are:
Fayette Circuit Court Judge Scott Reed, 46, of Lexington, who has held his present position since 1963.

Attorney Marvin Cornett, 52, of Stanford, a former three-term member of the state House of Representatives.

Attorney Julian R. Gabbard, 43, of Lexington, who was the first person to announce his candidacy nearly a year ago.

With the cross-filing allowed in judicial races in Kentucky, it would be possible for one of the candidates to wrap up the seat next Tuesday by winning both primary nominations.

But indications are for a tight battle between Williams and Reed for the Democratic nod, while Cornett is considered the frontrunner for the Republican nomination.

Few issues have developed in the campaign, primarily due to judicial ethics, which hinder Williams and Reed from criticizing each other.

Gabbard, however, has leveled a stiff attack on Williams' role in appellate court decisions dealing with the 100 per cent property tax assessment ruling and the proposed constitutional revision which was soundly defeated in 1966.

A native of Frenchburg, Williams served nine years as assistant attorney general before seeking the judicial post. Reed as Fayette County attorney before becoming circuit judge.

The district is comprised of Bourbon, Boyle, Carroll, Fayette, Franklin, Gallatin, Garrard, Henry, Jackson, Jessamine, Lincoln, Madison, Mercer, Owen, Rockcastle, Scott, Trimble and Woodford counties.

Next, the congressional primary races.

WORKSHOP

(Continued From Page 1)

ney." He went on to say, however, that when the ministers and churches of any resort area become serious about ministering to the needs of the tourists, then most resort operators will become serious about it, also. He said, "When tourists go to a resort area they must leave behind their jobs, their friends, their familiar surroundings and resources, and they often find themselves isolated on the point."

Other guest speakers at the workshop were Richard Douglas, Chairman, Kentucky Lake Fall Fishing Derby, Benton, Kentucky; C. C. Crossman, Chief, Reservoir Management Branch, Corps of Engineers, Nashville, Tennessee; Ronald Welborn, Reservoir Manager, Corps of Engineers, Lake Barkley, Grand Rivers, Kentucky; and Rev. Ward C. Patton, Jr., Lake Area Parish, Reeds Spring, Missouri.

Following the sessions on May 10 at Bob's Smorgasbord, the workshop moved to the Youth Station in the Education Conservation Center in the Land Between the Lakes and continued until noon on May 11 in order to provide specific training for those who will be leading outdoor worship services in the campgrounds and for those who will be serving as chaplains this summer.

The workshop was sponsored by the Land Between the Lakes Area Ministry which functions under the direction of a Coordinating Council made up of individuals with religious responsibilities within the region.

The Council is committed to the principle that each person involved in the ministry be allowed to retain his religious distinctives, participate authentically and exercise his religious freedom.

During the tourist season, the LBL Area Ministry coordinates leaders for campground worship each Sunday morning at 8:30 a.m. beginning on the last Sunday in May and concluding with the first Sunday in September, at Kentucky Dam State Park and Kenlake State Park campgrounds in Kentucky, Park Landing State Park Campground in Tennessee, and Hillman Ferry and Rushing Creek campgrounds in the Land Between the Lakes. The Area Ministry also arranges for chaplains to be in attendance throughout the summer at Hillman Ferry and Rushing Creek campgrounds. Rev. Gene N. Branson, Minister, First Christian Church, Benton, is presently serving as Executive Secretary for the LBL Area Ministry.

NOW YOU KNOW

by United Press International
The three longest underwater vehicular tunnels in America are in New York City. They are the Brooklyn-Battery Tunnel, 8,557 feet; the Holland Tunnel, 8,216 feet.

Annual Event At Coldwater Church

The Coldwater Church of Christ will have its annual homecoming on Sunday, May 26.

Bro. L. H. Pogue, now serving as a minister of the Church of Christ in Henderson, will be the speaker at morning 11:00 service. Bro. Pogue has been the speaker at the Coldwater homecoming for many years.

He, his wife, and son, Lester, still come back to their home at Penny each summer while he is conducting revivals in the area.

Lunch will be served in the Coldwater park following the morning worship services.

The group will convene at 2:30 p.m. at the church for a special singing.

The public is urged to attend the homecoming at the Coldwater Church of Christ.

Murray Church Has Gospel Meeting

The West Murray Church of Christ, located on Doran Road, closed its gospel meeting on Sunday. Franklin T. Puckett of Florence, Alabama, was the speaker for the series of meetings.

Bro. Puckett discussed "supposition" in every phase and stressed doing what the Bible says.

Bro. Audie McKee, minister of the church, said the attendance was gratifying and thanked the local congregations for their support.

SEEN & HEARD

(Continued From Page 1)

sery going at the back of his lot.

He is proud of his Martin houses. He has two apartment houses for Martins and he instructed us in the fine art of mounting these houses at the proper altitude and location.

Vernon ran the National Stores here for many years, retiring not too long ago. He's a fellow we always had great respect for.

The local flora and fauna, especially the former, has held his interest for some time. Now with more time to work around his yard, Vernon finds great enjoyment in growing things.

ALL SPORTS

(Continued From Page 1)

U.S. Basketball Coaches and the College Directors of Athletics. He has been associated with the SEC since 1950 when he became an assistant coach at the University of Florida.

Receiving awards for outstanding athletics were: Tom Moran in basketball; Harvey Tanner received the trophy in football; Don Harris also received two in baseball; Ron Acree won the trophy in golf; and Tom Turner received the trophy for men's track, as well as being named the outstanding freshman in M.S.U. sports.

Jerry Stue took the trophy in cross country and Martie Bas-tin won the award in women's tennis with Diana Warner taking the women's track trophy.

Another highlight of the night was the recognition of four new members of the Murray State Athletic Hall of Fame. The four included Cecil Kent, Norman McKenzie, and Woodrow J. "Pedro" Simmons, all of whom played football for Murray during the 1930's, and Tommy Wells, a Murray native, who was a pitcher for the baseball team during the 1956 and 1957 seasons.

Wells was the pitching ace for Murray's first Ohio Valley Conference championship team in 1957. He averaged 12.2 strikes a game that season to rank fifth in the nation. He signed a bonus contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers after that season and was considered one of the most promising pitchers in the Dodger organization before he injured his arm.

With the addition of these four, the Murray Hall of Fame now has 13 members. Previously selected were Walter "Bull" Wells, Harlan Brodie, Joe Fuiks, John Powless, Marshall Gage, Floyd Reed, Burdette, Howard Allen, Willard Bag-well and Hugh May.

MAGAZINE CLUB

The Magazine Club will meet at the home of Mrs. A. W. Russell, 321 North 7th Street, on Thursday, May 23, at 2:30 p.m. Rudolph Howard, minister of music of the First Baptist Church, will be the guest speaker.

Cave Hill Cemetery in Louisville contains the grave and monument of George Rogers Clark.

ECONOMIC CHAOS ...

(Continued From Page 1)

ced to two months in jail and 20 others awaiting trial. Amnesty was the chief demand of the students but it was not expected to solve the crisis.

The pro-Gaullist newspaper France-Soir said De Gaulle was thinking of holding a national referendum on his popularity to see if the nation still wanted him as leader. He was up against the worst crisis in the 10 years he has been in power—and the worst labor chaos since the end of World War II.

The nation was paralyzed by the strikes. Planes, trains, buses and subways were halted. Tourists were stranded. Many persons were unable to get to work, adding to the chaotic conditions. Housewives were panicky. Those who ventured onto the streets saw huge signs asking De Gaulle be replaced.

The cabinet met to discuss the university student revolt that triggered the national strike for more pay and shorter hours. In the national assembly lawmakers gathered to debate censuring the government for the snowballing unrest.

In the streets and in huge posters on its Paris headquarters, the Communists proclaimed the slogan: "Toward a popular government and one of democratic union."

It matched the phrases that brought a Communist-partnered popular front government to power in 1936, after the last previous outbreak of such a general strike.

Philosopher Jean-Paul Sartre marched into Paris' student-occupied Sorbonne University. He told the rebellious youth: "The most important part of your movement is that the sons of the bourgeoisie are united with the workers in a revolutionary spirit."

De Gaulle's backers were expected to defend the Communist-led general strike move in the national assembly when the key vote comes, possibly Wednesday afternoon.

But no single parliamentary vote appeared the cure for perhaps France's greatest crisis of the 1960's.

More than 6 million workers in Roman Catholic as well as Communist unions stayed home or occupied their places of work. Housewives hoarded and stripped shops of canned foods, sugar, rice and noodles as they did when the Nazi army blitzed into France in 1940. The workers demanded more pay, shorter hours, greater benefits. But the national impact of their action threatened the personal regime De Gaulle set up when he returned to power 10 years ago to lead his country back to glory.

It was difficult to find glory in France today.

Workers occupied more than 300 factories and the number grew. Uncollected garbage littered the streets of the capital. De Gaulle had spent millions cleaning up to become the showplace of his era.

In the banks, so recently proud of the Gaullist anti-dollar police that flaunted gold in their vaults, the French franc was stumbling on the market. Panicky depositors Monday withdrew some $200 million in a bank run. Bankers said the run would have been greater but for their limiting with drawals. The great Bank of France itself closed, its workers on strike and its flow of paper money halted.

Movie and theater owners hung up "closed" signs. The army rushed 200 trucks to replace idled buses but got clogged in the traffic jams on the grand boulevards.

All train traffic stopped. Red flags flew over the idled mills and factories in Marseilles, Le Havre and Dunkerque. Air Force men took over Paris' Orly Airport to keep a trickle of planes running in and out of what De Gaulle's economic boom had built into Europe's second busiest airfield.

In the halls of power, De Gaulle consulted aides. The president also was reported memorizing a speech he will deliver Friday night without, as usual, his very necessary reading glasses.

'Choke Soup'

Artichokes make an unusual soup to serve for spring lunches. Boil 4 artichokes, until hearts are tender. Remove the leaves and scrape the fleshy pulp from the leaves; discard leaves and chokes (fuzzy portion). Force pulp and hearts through food mill or puree in electric blender. Combine pulp with 1 cup of heavy cream, 2 cups of chicken stock or bouillon, 1 teaspoon of salt and 1/4 teaspoon each of pepper and basil. Mix well. Chill. Stir before serving. Makes about 4 cups.

WSM-TV WLAC-TV WSIX-TV WDCN-TV

Channel 4 Channel 5 Channel 8 Channel 2

TUESDAY EVENING PROGRAMS

6:00 News With Sports
6:30 Sports
7:00 Sports
7:30 Sports
8:00 Sports
8:30 Sports
9:00 Sports
9:30 Sports
10:00 Sports
10:30 Sports
11:00 Sports
11:30 Sports
12:00 Sports

WEDNESDAY MORNING PROGRAMS

6:00 News
6:30 News
7:00 News
7:30 News
8:00 News
8:30 News
9:00 News
9:30 News
10:00 News
10:30 News
11:00 News
11:30 News
12:00 News

WEDNESDAY EVENING PROGRAMS

6:00 News
6:30 News
7:00 News
7:30 News
8:00 News
8:30 News
9:00 News
9:30 News
10:00 News
10:30 News
11:00 News
11:30 News
12:00 News

THURSDAY MORNING PROGRAMS

6:00 News
6:30 News
7:00 News
7:30 News
8:00 News
8:30 News
9:00 News
9:30 News
10:00 News
10:30 News
11:00 News
11:30 News
12:00 News

THURSDAY EVENING PROGRAMS

6:00 News
6:30 News
7:00 News
7:30 News
8:00 News
8:30 News
9:00 News
9:30 News
10:00 News
10:30 News
11:00 News
11:30 News
12:00 News

FRIDAY MORNING PROGRAMS

6:00 News
6:30 News
7:00 News
7:30 News
8:00 News
8:30 News
9:00 News
9:30 News
10:00 News
10:30 News
11:00 News
11:30 News
12:00 News

FRIDAY EVENING PROGRAMS

6:00 News
6:30 News
7:00 News
7:30 News
8:00 News
8:30 News
9:00 News
9:30 News
10:00 News
10:30 News
11:00 News
11:30 News
12:00 News

SATURDAY MORNING PROGRAMS

6:00 News
6:30 News
7:00 News
7:30 News
8:00 News
8:30 News
9:00 News
9:30 News
10:00 News
10:30 News
11:00 News
11:30 News
12:00 News

SATURDAY EVENING PROGRAMS

6:00 News
6:30 News
7:00 News
7:30 News
8:00 News
8:30 News
9:00 News
9:30 News
10:00 News
10:30 News
11:00 News
11:30 News
12:00 News

SUNDAY MORNING PROGRAMS

6:00 News
6:30 News
7:00 News
7:30 News
8:00 News
8:30 News
9:00 News
9:30 News
10:00 News
10:30 News
11:00 News
11:30 News
12:00 News

SUNDAY EVENING PROGRAMS

6:00 News
6:30 News
7:00 News
7:30 News
8:00 News
8:30 News
9:00 News
9:30 News
10:00 News
10:30 News
11:00 News
11:30 News
12:00 News

(These Schedules Prepared by Stations Involved)

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK Looking Back to 1868

30-D Most expansive herds of animals on record in the world were those of American bison, or buffalo, which roved far and wide. Some were estimated to have had four million head, covering an area of fifty by twenty-five miles as they moved or roamed.

Much East-West highway mileage today between the Rockies and Mississippi River (and to some extent eastward to the Appalachians) follows trails beaten by bison in seasonal migrations to pasture and salt-licks until catastrophe befell them a century ago. Harper's Weekly recorded:

"Contemporaneous with the rise of the cattle kingdoms was the destruction of the buffalo which had roamed the Great Plains. As the railroads cut across their grazing-

lands the beasts became mass targets for hunters, such as 'Buffalo Bill' Cody, and excursions of sportsmen. Thousands of bales of skins and hides were shipped East, but many of the beasts were simply shot down and left to rot.

"In the thirteen years after 1868, two and a half million dollars were paid for buffalo bones picked up in Kansas and shipped to various carbon works. The average price was eight dollars a ton. It took about a hundred carcasses to make a ton. This indicates more than thirty-one million buffalo perished in Kansas alone in thirteen years."

Although a train could be held up for eight hours by passing over tracks of a single herd in the period 1868-70, buffalo were almost extinct by 1885.

CLARK KINNAIRD

As the railroads cut across their grazing-

lands the beasts became mass targets for hunters, such as 'Buffalo Bill' Cody, and excursions of sportsmen. Thousands of bales of skins and hides were shipped East, but many of the beasts were simply shot down and left to rot.

"In the thirteen years after 1868, two and a half million dollars were paid for buffalo bones picked up in Kansas and shipped to various carbon works. The average price was eight dollars a ton. It took about a hundred carcasses to make a ton. This indicates more than thirty-one million buffalo perished in Kansas alone in thirteen years."

Although a train could be held up for eight hours by passing over tracks of a single herd in the period 1868-70, buffalo were almost extinct by 1885.

CLARK KINNAIRD

As the railroads cut across their grazing-

lands the beasts became mass targets for hunters, such as 'Buffalo Bill' Cody, and excursions of sportsmen. Thousands of bales of skins and hides were shipped East, but many of the beasts were simply shot down and left to rot.

"In the thirteen years after 1868, two and a half million dollars were paid for buffalo bones picked up in Kansas and shipped to various carbon works. The average price was eight dollars a ton. It took about a hundred carcasses to make a ton. This indicates more than thirty-one million buffalo perished in Kansas alone in thirteen years."

Although a train could be held up for eight hours by passing over tracks of a single herd in the period 1868-70, buffalo were almost extinct by 1885.

CLARK KINNAIRD

As the railroads cut across their grazing-

lands the beasts became mass targets for hunters, such as 'Buffalo Bill' Cody, and excursions of sportsmen. Thousands of bales of skins and hides were shipped East, but many of the beasts were simply shot down and left to rot.

"In the thirteen years after 1868, two and a half million dollars were paid for buffalo bones picked up in Kansas and shipped to various carbon works. The average price was eight dollars a ton. It took about a hundred carcasses to make a ton. This indicates more than thirty-one million buffalo perished in Kansas alone in thirteen years."

Although a train could be held up for eight hours by passing over tracks of a single herd in the period 1868-70, buffalo were almost extinct by 1885.

CLARK KINNAIRD

As the railroads cut across their grazing-

lands the beasts became mass targets for hunters, such as 'Buffalo Bill' Cody, and excursions of sportsmen. Thousands of bales of skins and hides were shipped East, but many of the beasts were simply shot down and left to rot.

"In the thirteen years after 1868, two and a half million dollars were paid for buffalo bones picked up in Kansas and shipped to various carbon works. The average price was eight dollars a ton. It took about a hundred carcasses to make a ton. This indicates more than thirty-one million buffalo perished in Kansas alone in thirteen years."

Although a train could be held up for eight hours by passing over tracks of a single herd in the period 1868-70, buffalo were almost extinct by 1885.

CLARK KINNAIRD

As the railroads cut across their grazing-

lands the beasts became mass targets for hunters, such as 'Buffalo Bill' Cody, and excursions of sportsmen. Thousands of bales of skins and hides were shipped East, but many of the beasts were simply shot down and left to rot.

"In the thirteen years after 1868, two and a half million dollars were paid for buffalo bones picked up in Kansas and shipped to various carbon works. The average price was eight dollars a ton. It took about a hundred carcasses to make a ton. This indicates more than thirty-one million buffalo perished in Kansas alone in thirteen years."

Although a train could be held up for eight hours by passing over tracks of a single herd in the period 1868-70, buffalo were almost extinct by 1885.

CLARK KINNAIRD

As the railroads cut across their grazing-

lands the beasts became mass targets for hunters, such as 'Buffalo Bill' Cody, and excursions of sportsmen. Thousands of bales of skins and hides were shipped East, but many of the beasts were simply shot down and left to rot.

"In the thirteen years after 1868, two and a half million dollars were paid for buffalo bones picked up in Kansas and shipped to various carbon works. The average price was eight dollars a ton. It took about a hundred carcasses to make a ton. This indicates more than thirty-one million buffalo perished in Kansas alone in thirteen years."

Although a train could be held up for eight hours by passing over tracks of a single herd in the period 1868-70, buffalo were almost extinct by 1885.

CLARK KINNAIRD

As the railroads cut across their grazing-

lands the beasts became mass targets for hunters, such as 'Buffalo Bill' Cody, and excursions of sportsmen. Thousands of bales of skins and hides were shipped East, but many of the beasts were simply shot down and left to rot.

"In the thirteen years after 1868, two and a half million dollars were paid for buffalo bones picked up in Kansas and shipped to various carbon works. The average price was eight dollars a ton. It took about a hundred carcasses to make a ton. This indicates more than thirty-one million buffalo perished in Kansas alone in thirteen years."

Although a train could be held up for